Ike Prepared to Lead U.S. Into Special UN Meeting

Stabilization Plan Proposed For Mideast

U. S. to Ask for Its Adoption at Special Session

United Nations, N.Y. — The United States will urge the proposed emergency session of the general assembly to adopt a sweeping Middle East stabilization plan in which the UN would have a central role.

Informed quarters said today the plan now under consideration would deal with at least three major outstanding problems which have caused growing unrest in the area.

These are:

Arab Nationalism

1. Arab nationalism which has been fanned into such intensity that western interests are threatened throughout the Middle East and North Africa.
2. The region's limited water resources, which must be divided so that all countries will get a fair share.
3. The explosive refugee problem which has been an international headache ever since the Israeli-Arab conflict in 1948 sent 900,000 Palestinian Arabs into exile.

The U.S. was understood to believe that another key problem is the establishment of a stabilizing agency to fill the vacuum left by the end of the colonial rule in the Middle East.

Details still have not been worked out, but the United States is reported to feel the UN is the appropriate agency to fill this vacuum.

Chief Delegate

Chief U.S. Delegate Henry Cabot Lodge was consulting with his aides and with the state department.

Informed quarters said the United States would bring up the question of indirect aggression during the assembly debate, but would place its main emphasis on a long-range solution rather than on the past.

The security council is expected to approve quickly the calling of the emergency assembly.

Australia Announces Its Recognition of New Iraq Government

Canberra, Australia — Foreign Minister Richard G. Casey announced today that the Australian government has recognized the new revolutionary government in Iraq.

Casey told the house of representatives the government favors creation of a UN commission stationed in the Middle East to check on all aggression or threats to established governments from interference and subversion.

Receipts in '48-56 'Gambling Gains,' Hoffa Tells Probers

Denies Income Listed on Returns Were Labor Dispute Payoffs

Washington — Teamsters Boss James R. Hoffa told senate investigators today he had $60,322 of "gambling gains" in the 1948-56 period. He denied that income so listed on tax returns included payoffs in labor disputes.

Hoffa told the senate racketeering investigating committee he couldn't spell out details of the gambling gains but that Owen (Bert) Brennan, his pal and a teamsters vice president, could.

Brennan called to the witness chair, invoked the Fifth amendment. He said his income taxes are under investigation and he would not be a witness against himself.

Denies Payoff

Hoffa denied specifically that he got a $17,500 payoff, or any part of that sum, to prevent a Detroit laundry industry strike in 1949.

Testimony yesterday had linked his name with the alleged payoff.

"I deny that under oath," Hoffa said. "I didn't get it."

Committee Counsel Robert F. Kennedy then demanded an explanation of items he said Hoffa's tax reports for 1948-56 listed.

Hoffa jauntily took sharp issue with any senator who interrogated him.

First, he accused Sen. Irving Ives (R-NY) of insinuating that he was cooperating.

French Set Date For Referendum On Constitution

Paris — The cabinet of Premier Charles de Gaulle today decided to hold a nationwide referendum Sept. 28 on France's new constitution.

An advisory committee began consideration behind closed doors of De Gaulle's draft proposals a week ago, but the premier's ideas are not going over fully. He is scheduled to make a personal appearance before the committee later this week.

Despite this, the cabinet moved up the referendum date one week. The date had previously been unofficially set at Oct. 5.

The draft constitution prepared by De Gaulle and his cabinet is running into committee opposition on several points. Most of them revolve about the premier's efforts to strengthen the executive at the expense of the national assembly.

Man Swims While His Boat Circles

San Pedro, Calif. — A Hollywood man swam three miles last night, yelling and praying for help, while his circling motorboat threatened to cut him to bits.

Police said Richard W. Taylor, 28, a coffee salesman, gave this account:

Shortly after 8 p.m. he left here alone in his 60-mph speedboat for the 21-mile run to Santa Catalina island. Three miles out a heavy swell pitched him into the sea.

The pilotless craft began circling him. Several times he dived deep below the surface to avoid its churning propeller. When the boat veered away he cried for help and prayed some other boat would come to his aid.

His cries and the motorboat's whine were heard by persons on the breakwater here. Two coast guard cutters sped to the scene. One took the motorboat in tow as it ran out of gas.

Taylor swam to within 100 yards of the shore. City life-guard Tony Tomich brought him ashore, unconscious. He was revived and treated for shock and minor injuries at San Pedro hospital and taken home by his parents.

Nation Wants Debate to be Unrestricted

Troops in Lebanon Will Stay Until Situation Clears

Washington — President Eisenhower said today the United States wants to discuss the total sweep of middle east problems at the proposed special session of the United Nations general assembly.

The president told a news conference it would not be practical to restrict debate to just the problems of the little country of Lebanon.

It was Eisenhower's first news conference since July 2 — almost two weeks, before U. S. troops moved into Lebanon, and most of the questions concerned the mideast crisis.

Troops Will Stay

Troops — Asked when and under what conditions the United States would pull its 15,000 troops out of Lebanon, Eisenhower replied withdrawal will come whenever the Lebanese government says it feels the situation is in hand, and there no longer is threat of indirect aggression.

Summit — As to the possibility of an eventual summit conference, Eisenhower said you can't rule out all possibility of one because of the Russian rejection of such a meeting in the UN security council.

The president said that if the United States ever can see anything constructive resulting from a heads of government meeting, he would be prepared to attend.

School integration — Eisenhower said he has no special plans for trying to head off any new school integration crisis this fall. He said there must be every effort at state and local levels to deal peacefully with the situation.

The president added he has

President Would Attend General Assembly Session If Move Deemed Necessary

Washington — President Eisenhower said today he will head the U. S. delegation to the prospective emergency session of the United Nations general assembly on the Middle East if he finds his personal presence necessary or desirable.

There has been speculation on the part of some officials here that Soviet Premier Khrushchev actually has no intention of coming.

Eisenhower told a news conference that he has no plan at the moment to go to New York for the general assembly meeting. He also said that he knows of no general intention on the part of other heads of government to go there.

Will Participate

But he reminded reporters that each of the 81 national delegations can be headed by the head of government and he said positively that if he finds it necessary or desirable he will participate.

Eisenhower's treatment of the matter had the appearance of a deliberate hint at a possible personal role in the UN discussions.

Behind this, it was learned, was White House consideration of the idea of having the president make an opening statement of the reasons for past U. S. action in the Middle East crisis and the prospects for this country's future policies.

Though officials did not suggest the possibility as a part of any presidential design, it was evident that if Eisenhower and Khrushchev as well as British Prime Minister Macmillan and other leaders all showed up at UN headquarters there would be at least the makings of a summit conference.

Hitch Delays U.A.R. Talks

U. S. Envoy Was to Have Met With Egypt Chief Today

Cairo — A last minute hitch today postponed at least temporarily talks between U. S. Envoy Robert Murphy and President Nasser and other high U.A.R. officials.

An American embassy spokesman said Murphy, accompanied by Ambassador Raymond Hare, was to open talks before noon with Nasser's chief adviser, Aly Sabry, preliminary to meeting Nasser later.

But Hare went alone to see Sabry. After 35 minutes Hare emerged and told reporters he did not know when Murphy would meet the U.A.R. chiefs.

But he predicted a meeting will be arranged between the two sides.

Foreign Minister Mahmoud Fawzy showed up at the presidential palace expecting to join the Nasser-Murphy talks this morning and found nobody there. The presidential chamberlain told him the talks had been postponed.

The Egyptians were certain to object to U. S. charges that Nasser long has been committing indirect aggression to undermine independent Arab governments through propaganda and subversion.

Rescue Family After Seven Days in Wilds

Watson Lake, Yukon Territory — A California family of three who crash-landed their small plane in the mountainous southern Yukon have been rescued after surviving for seven days on grouse, fish and leaves.

Pilot E. L. Gregg of Firebaugh, Calif., his wife and their daughter attracted the attention of a search plane with a mirror as they stood beside their wrecked craft.

Eleva Man Held As Suspect in Bancroft Holdup

Marshallfield — Wood County Sheriff Tom Forsythe said this afternoon that an Eleva man answering the description of a gunman who held up the Bancroft State bank this morning was arrested at a road block today with $2,400 in cash in his car.

Forsythe identified the man as Orrin Sandberg, but said Sandberg denied any connection with the holdup.

One of the bank's employees, taken to Marshallfield, said she could "positively identify" the money taken from Sandberg's car as property of the Bancroft bank.

Alert Formosa as Red Air Activity Increases

Taipei, Formosa — Civil air defense units and police on Formosa were on a special alert today because of increased communist air activity on the Chinese mainland opposite Formosa.

A spokesman for the Nationalist Chinese defense ministry, Rear Adm. Liu Hsi-Tu, said all police and civil defense leaves had been cancelled. The alert began Tuesday night.

Indirect Aggression Threat, Dulles Says

Action of Communism Brings War Close, Brazilian Leaders Told

Rio De Janeiro — Secretary of State Dulles said today indirect aggression threatens another world war — "this time with even more disastrous consequences."

World events now show "disturbing symptoms such as preceded and forecast World war II," Dulles said in a speech at a luncheon given for him by the American Chamber of Commerce in Brazil.

Dulles spoke to the American business community just before flying with Brazilian President Juscelino Kubitschek to Brasilia, the nation's capital under construction 600 miles northwest of Rio. It was the secretary's last stop on his 21-day visit to Brazil. He was to fly back to Washington tonight.

Near Agreement — Dulles and Kubitschek were reported near agreement that a summit conference of the presidents of the 21 American republics should be called to knit together the strained ties between the United States and its Latin neighbors.

Plugging a theme he sounded last week to counter Russia's criticism of the American landing in Lebanon, Dulles accused international communism of using indirect aggression in an effort to rule the world. He warned:

"If indirect aggression — the fomenting of civil strife in the interest of a foreign power — is tolerated as an instrument of international policy, events will indeed follow the tragic pattern which led to World war II and this time with even more disastrous consequences."

Dulles said one purpose of his trip was "to counsel on how to dispel the growing

Curb Prices, Ike Asks

Restraint Needed Or Consumers Will Rebel, He Asserts

Washington — President Eisenhower said today American business is going to have to curb price increases or consumers are going to rebel.

The president coupled this remark at a news conference with an equally emphatic declaration that labor, too, must use restraint about wage increases.

Eisenhower gave his views when asked if, in the light of recent steel price increases, his administration has any plan to combat inflation.

He did not answer the question directly but said no one should be more concerned about inflation than the working man whose income, he said, steadily lags behind rising costs of living.

Eisenhower said both labor and business must use restraint if this country is to get along without artificial controls.

He said if prices continue to rise the time will come when the American consumer will die East to check on all aggression or threats to established governments from interference and subversion.

Thin Strand of Life

Loopholes Appear in Sketchy Story Told by Teamsters Business Agent

Pontiac, Mich. — The sketchy story that teamsters Business Agent Frank Kierdorf gave after he stumbled into a hospital, burned almost from head to foot, began falling apart today.

At the same time, police had a warrant for the arrest of Kierdorf's uncle, Herman Kierdorf, either a vengeance-bent hunter or the fear-shaking prey of an anonymous telephone threat.

Vowed To Get Even — Herman, a former Teamsters business agent, disappeared after swearing he would get even with the people who his nephew said set him afire and left him, pain-racked and nearly naked, on a hospital lawn.

While the 36-year-old Frank clung to a thin strand of life admitted he was wearing only a robe over trousers and an undershirt.

He said he never came to the hospital. Furthermore, there is no evidence to back up his statement that he rolled in the grass to put out the flames.

Ziem bas his conclusions on the word of a pathologist who examined Frank. The pathologist, Dr. Charles E. Olsen, said he found traces of a salve on Kierdorf's neck and face that was not administered by the hospital.

The new loopholes in Frank's story, rather than providing clues, only piled higher the multitude of unanswered questions.

Why did he leave home Sunday night with two strangers? He said they told him it was union business, but he later admitted he was wearing only a robe over trousers and an undershirt.

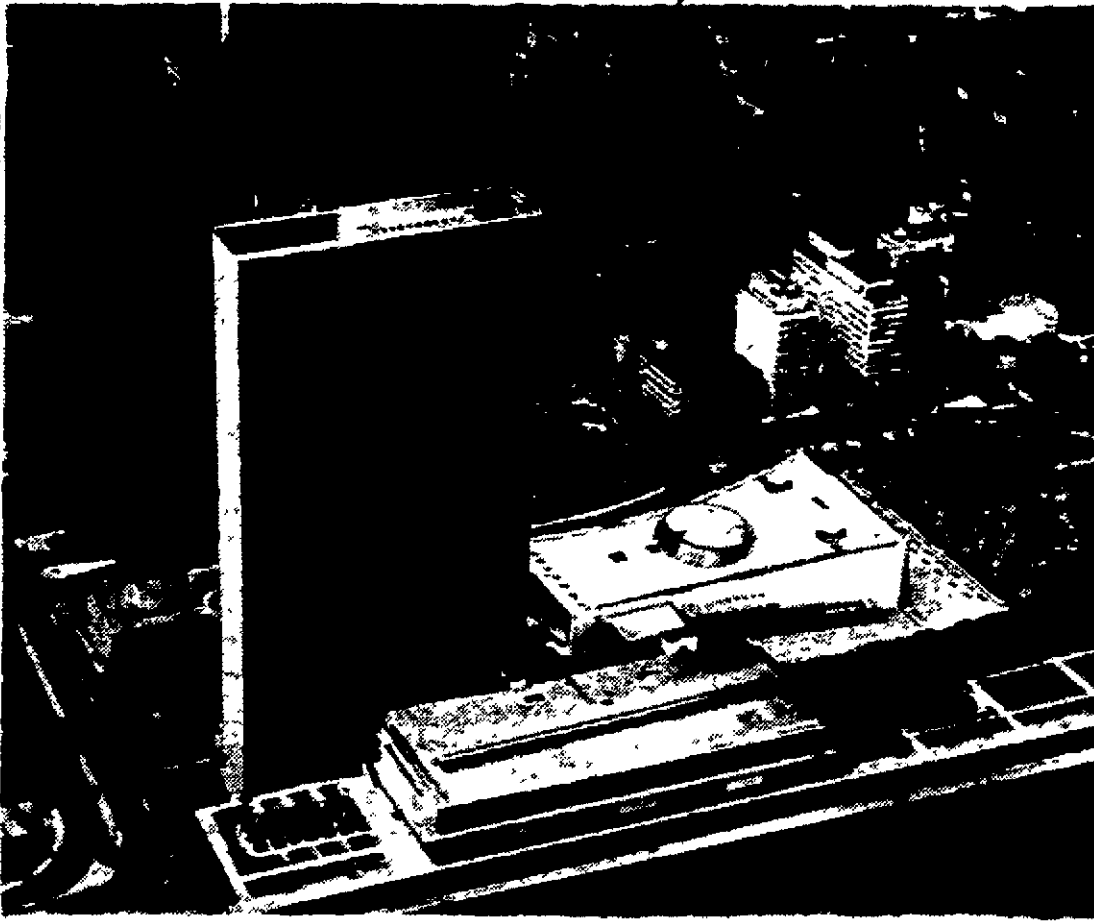

Who are John and Roger? He has mentioned both in delirious mumbling but refused to talk about them later.

What was he loading into the black Packard in which he was taken from his home? A neighbor told police she saw him put what looked like pillows into the car. Could they have contained explosive material that accidentally scared him? Would that mean the men with him were friends?

Union Business? Was he burned — either vengefully or accidentally — because of union business? At first Frank said yes, then he said no.

Both Frank and his uncle Herman are former convicts with Teamsters union connections. Frank is business agent for the 2,000-member Teamsters local 332 in nearby Flint. Herman quit only last week as business agent for Detroit joint Teamsters council 43 and as an aide to International Teamsters President James R. Hoffa.

The World Spotlight Remains focused on this imposing cluster of buildings—the United Nations headquarters on Manhattan's east side — despite Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev's refusal to attend a security council debate on Middle East issues. President Eisenhower has agreed to Khrushchev's proposal for a general assembly meeting. The building at the right with the curved roof houses the general assembly chamber. The tall building is the secretariat and office building and the low structure in the foreground houses lounges and restaurant. (AP Wirephoto)

Pessimism Seen on Mideast Settlement

Congressional Leaders Question Value of Using General Assembly As Clearing House for Problems

Washington —(AP)—Congressional leaders expressed pessimism today over prospects for an early settlement of Middle East problems in the wake of the decision to air them in the UN general assembly.

Sen. Mike Mansfield (D-Mont), assistant senate majority leader, questioned the merit of turning the problem over to "an 81-nation assembly with every one able to speak."

"It could stir up debate the like of which even the U. S. senate has never seen," he told a reporter.

Mansfield, a member of the senate foreign relations committee, commended President Eisenhower for quickly agreeing to Soviet Premier Khrushchev's turnaround proposal for an emergency assembly session.

But he said Eisenhower should continue to press for a

Predict Quick End of Mexican Railroad Strike

Walkout by 100,000 Causing Freight Pileups in Country

Mexico City —(AP)—The head of Mexico's railroads today predicted a prompt settlement of a wildcat strike punctuated by violence which has crippled the nation's communications.

Roberto Amorós made the prediction after late night conferences that included a meeting with President Adolfo Ruiz Cortines. Amorós earlier denied reports of an agreement with Demetrio Vallejo, the dissident labor leader who called the strike Saturday.

The walkout by more than 100,000 railway men has caused freight pileups throughout Mexico. Some shortages of food and fuels were developing. Amorós said some passenger service to the United States is being maintained, however, and traffic is normal on the Pacific division between Guadalajara and Nogales.

Trains left in both directions last night on the Mexico City-Laredo run, Amorós said, and another left Juarez for this capital. No tourists were reported stranded.

Keep Trains Running

Workers not sympathetic with the strike, some retired workers and executives were keeping trains running on the government-operated system. Some carried troops after a train was derailed, a bridge burned and several locomotives in Mexico City were put out of commission. Officials said the passenger train derailed near Tepic on the west coast had been sabotaged and the army arrested several persons.

Vallejo is trying to pressure the government into recognizing him as chief of the railway union's executive committee. The government recognizes Salvador Quesada and says a convention which elected Vallejo was illegal.

An agreement to call new union elections was expected to be the basis of any settlement.

A sympathy strike by telegraphers was partially broken when 80 per cent of the early night shift last night showed up for work at central offices in Mexico City. However, they were unable to make contact with many key cities where the strike was still on.

The national electricians union decided after heated debate not to walk out in sympathy with Vallejo's supporters. The threat of a general strike apparently was receding.

See Defeat in Effort to Cut Foreign Aid

Senate Committee Votes to Restore $440 Million to Bill

BY ERNEST B. VACCARO
Washington —(AP)—Opponents of increased foreign aid spending all but conceded victory today to senate leaders fighting to restore most of the funds cut by the house from a foreign aid money bill.

The opponents suffered a strong setback yesterday when the senate appropriations committee approved $3,518,092,500 in foreign aid spending after restoring $440 million of the $597½ million chopped out by the house.

Sen. Henry Dworshak (R-Idaho) said attempts will be made to knock out the increases when the bill comes up for senate debate next week.

Difficult to Beat

But he noted that Sen. Lyndon B. Johnson of Texas and Sen. William F. Knowland of California, the senate's Democratic and Republican leaders, teamed up to get committee approval of the increase.

Dworshak called that "a difficult combination to beat."

Sen. Richard B. Russell (D-Ga.) said he, too, would oppose the increases on the floor as he did in the committee, but added "the chances do not look too bright."

Even with the increase, the bill falls $432 million dollars below what the president originally asked, and $157½ million less than congress itself approved in a previous authorization bill.

Knowland told the committee the president realized that he couldn't anticipate a ny more, and said the administration could live with the amount voted.

Big Question

The big question seemed to be how much of the increase the house will agree to in conference after the senate itself acts.

Sen. Everett M. Dirksen (R-Ill.), assistant GOP floor leader, told a reporter he is hopeful that in view of new developments in the Middle East the house will go along with most of the increases, instead of insisting on the usual down-the-middle split of differences.

Similarly, house GOP leader Joseph W. Martin of Massachusetts said he thought the house was now in a mood to accept a substantially higher amount than it previously voted.

Save 2 Children On Innertube 7 Miles Out in Lake

Traverse City, Mich. —(AP)—Nearly exhausted after drifting helplessly for six hours on an old innertube, two small children were rescued seven miles out in Lake Michigan at dusk last night.

Their weak cries for help attracted the attention of a fisherman.

The fisherman, vacationing in Detroit, Police Lt. Thomas Turkaly, found 7-year-old Philip Morris clinging to the side of the innertube and holding his 5-year-old sister, Jeanette, in the center.

The children had gone swimming off the beach on the western side of Grand Traverse bay with their innertube about 11 a.m. When they failed to return home in the afternoon their parents, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Morris, called state police.

Before Turkaly brought the children in, boats were sent out by the Leelanau and Grand Traverse counties sheriff's offices and a helicopter was sent up from the coast guard station here.

Hemingway Tries to Stop Reprinting of Short Stories

New York —(AP)—Ernest Hemingway is trying to block Esquire magazine from reprinting three of his Spanish civil war short stories.

The stories appeared in the magazine in late 1938 and early 1939. At the time, Hemingway favored the Russia-backed loyalists in their losing struggle against the Franco forces.

Some characters in the stories speak in favor of the loyalist cause.

"The passage of time can affect the writings of authors, either favorably or unfavorably," Hemingway said yesterday as he began court action his property rights — it would prevent reprinting.

"Illustrative is the change and irreparable damage to in attitude of people to write the time. No Esquire spokesman Russia was our ally to the present attitude of people to ly for comment on the case.

Boys, Mothers Rally to Scoutmaster's Defense

Object to Firing of Troop Leader Who Took Youths on Unauthorized Camping Trips

New London, Conn. —(AP)—Boy Scouts and their mothers today were rallying to the defense of an ousted scoutmaster.

The leader, William N. Smith, was fired by the Scout organization on grounds he disregarded his troops' safety and health by conducting camping trips and hikes without proper authorization.

Every member of the troop benefited from Smith's training, said Scout John D. Miceli, 19.

"Next to my folks, Mr. Smith rates next," said Tom Campagna, 12. "We love him and would do anything for him."

Commented Lee Brown, blind 11 year old: "I am proud to be a Scout, and it was only through the efforts of Mr. Smith that I am."

Bought Braille Books

Lee said the stocky, muscular ex-infantry sergeant took the boy into the troop willingly after other troops had turned him down.

"He's a great guy and I love to be with him and the troop," Lee said. "He even ordered some Scout books in young folks."

Williams, Symington Score Easy Victories In State Primaries

Advance Favorites Also Win In Kansas and West Virginia

By the Associated Press
Two Democratic presidential prospects—Gov. G. Mennen Williams of Michigan and Sen. Stuart Symington of Missouri—did as expected yesterday and scored easy victories in their state primaries.

The twin triumphs highlighted primary contests in four states. There were no major upsets. The advance favorites generally prevailed in balloting that took place in Kansas and West Virginia as well as Michigan and Missouri.

The 47-year-old Williams beat back his first intraparty challenge in 10 years to win

Smith, a 35-year-old laundry operator, is a World war veteran who still wears a crew cut. He denied the charges. He said each boy was given a stiffer-than-normal test and only the successful Scouts were eligible to go.

"The whole gist of this controversy between myself and the local scout office is the type of program our troop has been carrying on," he said. "We are a very, very outdoor type of troop."

During the three years Smith headed Troop 27, he took his Scouts on numerous trips and hikes.

200 Mile Canoe Trip

They included a 4-day, 200 mile canoe trip on the Connecticut river and a trip to Mt. Washington in New Hampshire in subzero weather.

"God forbid," Smith said, "if these boys ever have to take care of themselves, these boys will know how."

The troop now is without a charter until Smith can be replaced. The regional council of the Boy Scouts scheduled a hearing for Sept. 8 on Smith's ouster.

Numerous protests came from the parents of the 35 members of the troop, and 14 of them gave Smith a vote of confidence yesterday.

Commented Mrs. Joseph Scarpa, mother of a 17-year-old scout: "Why, there should be more people like Bill, and there would be less trouble in this town and the world, with young folks."

GOP Opponent

Williams' Republican opponent in November will be Paul D. Bagwell, 44, a Michigan State university professor who was unopposed for his party's nomination.

Sen. Charles E. Potter gained GOP renomination without opposition, too. But he faces the prospect of a stiff general election race with Lt. Gov. Philip A. Hart, a Williams running mate who captured the Democratic senatorial nomination. Hart, like Williams, handily turned back a rebel challenge in the primary from Homer Martin, a former United Auto Workers union official.

It was strictly no contest in Missouri—did as expected yesterday and scored easy victories in their state primaries.

Former Rep. Jennings Randolph, 56, and Rep. Robert C. Byrd, 40, won Democratic senatorial primaries in West Virginia. Randolph, former Gov. William C. Marland and two others to win the right to seek the remaining two years of the late Sen. Matthew Neely's term. He will face Sen. John D. Hobbitt, Jr., who was unopposed for the Republican nomination.

Byrd swamped a pair of foes to gain the Democratic nomination for the 6-year senatorial term. His November match will be with Sen. Chapman Revercomb, who had no opposition for Republican renomination.

The Kansas nominations were highlighted by the Republican primary for governor, won by Clyde Reed, Jr. of Parsons. Reed, 44, a newspaper publisher, piled up a better than 3-1 edge over former Gov. Fred Hall. The GOP organization supported Reed, the son of a former governor and a man who has never held public office.

Gov. George Docking, the first Democratic governor in Kansas in 20 years, had no opposition in his bid for renomination.

Several house members from Michigan, Missouri and Kansas had close races, but all either won or were ahead in their renomination bids. They included Reps. Wint Smith (R-Kan.), Morgan Moulder (D-Mo.), George H. Christopher (D-Mo.), John Lesinski (D-Mich) and Thaddeus M. Machrowicz (D-Mich).

Woman Candidate

Symington's November foe will be Miss Hazel Palmer, retiring president of the National Association of Business and Professional Women. Miss Palmer, 54-year-old Sedalia attorney, defeated three male opponents to win the GOP nomination.

Former Rep. Jennings Randolph, 56, and Rep. Robert C. Byrd, 40, won Democratic senatorial primaries in West Virginia. Randolph, former Gov. William C. John Abitz Caught
By Patrolman After Leaving Accident

John L. Abitz, 18, route 2,
Fond du Lac, was fined $30, charged 12 points for two offenses and an accident, and had his driver's license revoked for 30 days by Municipal Judge Oscar J. Schmieg

Abitz was arrested by Appleton police after a patrolman commandeered a car and

Wiley Wants Bigger Social Security Hike

Sen. Alexander Wiley has urged Congress to boost the proposed 7 per cent increase in social security benefits to 10 per cent.

The 7 per cent increase is woefully inadequate," Wiley said.
"According to estimates,
the cost of living has gone up

8 per cent since the last increase—1 per cent above the proposed benefit hike."
Wiley urged congressional approval of a White House conference on problems of aged people. He called for a for old people and establishment of a program to help

Union Charges Against Gresl Not Settled

Works Board Sets Another Meeting For Next Tuesday

Union complaints against Contractor Paul C. Gresl remained unsettled after a lengthy discussion Tuesday by the board of public works.

Award of two contracts to Gresl, apparent low bidder in each case, was withheld pending another meeting of the board with Gresl and Robert Schlieve, Teamster official who made the charges.

Discussion Tuesday cleared one point: Gresl did pay the wage scale required in his city contract during August, September, October and November of last year.

But, Schlieve pointed out check stubs and a certified payroll record filed at city hall by Gresl, under terms of the contract, conflict.

Cites Tenor Case
This, the union leader claims, constitutes failure to file a true report of payroll and is a violation of the contract. He called for a ban on accepting Gresl bids on city work in the same way Tenor Brothers, Algoma contractor, was punished for contract violations last year. Tenor was banned from bidding for two years.

Schlieve produced check stubs of George Thomas, pointing out rates, hours and gross amount fail to jibe with Gresl's report for the same week.

Gresl said he doesn't make out the payroll record, a secretary does and she may have made a mistake. He insisted he has and does pay the scale required in city contracts when working on city projects. It may be possible, he said, that Thomas, and two workers mentioned, worked part of the week on city projects and part on some other private work.

Thomas' check stub shows 49 hours work at $2.25 an hour for a total of $110.25. The certified report to the city for the same week shows 43 hours at $2.50 an hour for a total of $111.25 for Thomas.

Motions to Ban Lose
Schlieve pointed out the check stub indicates no time-and-a-half for overtime while the certified record does.

The city contract does not specifically call for time-and-a-half payments. It states on-ly that the workday shall be eight hours and the work week, 40 hours.

After Schlieve and Gresl left, board members voted 3-2 to withhold the two contracts that he worked on city projects exclusively during the period.

2 Annexation Requests May Go to Council

Legal proceedings for annexation of two tracts totaling 56 acres probably will be started tonight by the city council.

City Clerk Elden J. Broehm said City Atty. Don L. Jury has finished drafting the legal forms and will present them to a special meeting of the welfare and ordinance for six months periods were lost.

It was decided to ask Gresl to produce his payroll records from August through November of last year at another meeting next Tuesday.

Schlieve will be asked to file the check stubs with the city clerk and an affidavit from Thomas that he worked on city projects exclusively during the period.

committee a half hour before the council meeting. Approval is expected without question.

Others Pending

The tracts are the 38-acre Hansen-Bassett-Schaefer parcel at E. Newberry street on the city's east limits and the 20-acre Joseph Doerfler parcel south of E. Hoover avenue and east of S. Oneida street on the far south side.

The board of public works approved the Doerfler tract, along with three other areas, on May 6, and the Hansen-Bassett-Schaefer tract on May 28.

Jury has not filed completed legal papers for the other three tracts, the industrial park on the southwest side, the northwest elementary school site on N. Mason street and the second high school site on E. John street at the city's southeast corner.

It will be late in 1959 before the city may be able to extend services to both the Hansen-Bassett-Schaefer and

A Thought on S. Oneida Street Bridge

Shortly the city council will be asked to approve a $740,000 replacement for the S. Oneida street swing bridge. Failure of the present swing bridge last weekend focused attention on the need for some action, but other factors, it seems to us, make highly questionable the spending of that much money on a simple replacement.

For, the replacement commits the city for at least 40 years to a low level traffic route through the industrial flats, a route which worried city planners as early as 1921 when a high level span was advised. To say the replacement doesn't commit the city exclusively to the low level is to ignore the predicted spiraling of the bond debt, mostly for schools. What is put into the route now will have to serve an awfully long time.

And, the traffic problem in the flats, already rippling out to snarl downtown travelers, cannot be expected to diminish. Not with south side residential districts and rural and urban communities to the south growing rapidly. These increased population centers will generate more and more automobiles, probably not a serious situation if the low level route could be maintained uninterrupted by freight train switching and by canal travel of boats. But, switching is, and will be essential to the flats. And, use of pleasure craft increases daily.

Then, there's S. Appleton street. Simple replacement of the swing bridge — in light of the expected vehicle travel — will require an expensive reconstruction of S. Appleton below W. Lawrence street. The present intersection of 1-way streets near

S. Oneida hill is makeshift at best. S. Appleton reconstruction will have the added drawback of probably including a sacrifice of land making up the city-owned parking lot behind First Congregational church.

Here's another consideration. The city's share of the College-to-Candee high bridge is $600,000. Rate that bridge against the $740,000 replacement and the city taxpayer's dollar gets a lot less bridge on S. Oneida. We understand the $600,000 represents only a third of bridge costs and the $740,000, the entire cost. We also realize the $600,000 cost resulted from sharing charges with the state and county under the state's long bridge act and that there apparently is no chance of state aid in the small S. Oneida structure.

What occurs to us — since Appleton residents, at last check, were still contributing more than half the county's money and a nice share of state revenues — is this question: Why hasn't the city considered petitioning the state for aid in a high bridge over the flats? A high bridge would remove need for any kind of replacement. The flats could be served from the north end as Interlake mill will be served from one end of the College-Candee span. The exact location of such a bridge, of course, would have to be carefully chosen so it would not just funnel more traffic into the already congested downtown area, but we think that could be done, perhaps with some further changes in the one-way street system.

When $740,000 is involved and finances cause worry, it would seem the proposition deserves some study, some thought of the future.

Reorganizing County Boards

Mr. Joseph Janka is the chairman of the Waukesha county board of supervisors. We know little about him, except that his public activities suggest a certain temerity of spirit. Some persons with a knowledge of Wisconsin political history and the history of our favorite local institutions might even suggest that his ideas appear a little chimerical. For he is resolved to achieve a change in the historic county board system of Wisconsin, which has withstood the assaults of so many in the past.

Mr. Janka's board consists of 57 members. There are those persons in Wisconsin who live in counties where that would appear to be a moderate size. At least one county has the doubtful distinction of having an 82-member board. He proposes a new system that would permit a smaller, more manageable and presumably more effective direction of county legislative affairs.

We wish Mr. Janka all success, without having much hope that he will make any significant progress in his bold enterprise. As he has admitted, he has found very little response for his notions among county board officials of Wisconsin although he has carried his grievance into the councils of the Wisconsin County Boards association, and elsewhere.

One of the reasons why there rarely has been any response to such reform proposals is that they are couched in the wrong terms.

Does it really matter that a county board consists of 57 members, or 27 or 17? If size alone is a disability, then many of our other representative governing bodies are disqualified. The Wisconsin assembly consists of 100 members. Four and a half times that number occupy the U. S. house of representatives. There are sizeable city councils in Wisconsin. Does anyone suggest that they are less effective or that their integrity is of a lower order than that of the tiny town board or village board?

The real issue is one of equality of representation. The county board derives its status from the era when Wisconsin was predominantly rural. The typical citizen lived in a town or village. It seemed proper enough to apportion county board representation according to local governmental units with the new cities using ward lines to divide their delegations.

All that has changed. Wisconsin has been an urban state for more than two decades. Urbanization is proceeding more swiftly each year. The result is that most cities would be forced to increase their wards to ridiculous numbers to get a proportionate share of county board seats. The result is that most towns have more power on the county board than many city wards. There are tiny villages in the state that out-vote, in county board representation, some city wards 10 to 1.

Mr. Janka talks about two reform alternatives, the election of county board members by separate districts reflecting population, or through assembly districts. The latter would be simpler and more economical. The assembly now is apportioned according to population, and there is a fair chance that it will continue to follow population movements.

In Outagamie county there are two assembly districts, generally following the urban and rural divisions of the county. The law could provide for four or six county board supervisors from each, or any other number that seems reasonable. It would be the easiest and fairest method of assuring the kind of organization of our county government that all of our precepts and beliefs about representative government imply, but that have gradually been lost as the decades have made the devices of our founding fathers anachronistic.

Laird Sees Possibility of Savings in Armed Services

From Washington Report of Cong. Melvin Laird, 7th District

The last appropriation bill covering the 1939 budget passed the house last week. Reducing federal expenditures is not a glamorous experience in this second session of the 85th Congress. The atmosphere throughout the country and particularly in Washington seems to lead the majority of the members of congress down the road of more federal spending. Since Jan. 10 I have attended executive sessions of the appropriations committee every morning and afternoon, including the Fourth of July, and have made a sincere effort to reduce unnecessary federal spending. Your congressman serves on more appropriations subcommittees and has attended more committee hearings than any other member of congress.

Finding oneself in the minority on many hundreds of spending requests is not a satisfying experience. There are times, however, in the mark-up of appropriation bills when being a "watchdog" really pays off with great personal satisfaction. In such cases the savings of tax dollars more than compensate for the disappointments. Only last week my efforts to secure the maximum utilization of existing military facilities before embarking on new military construction paid rich dividends.

All too frequently the sole responsibility for the utilization of existing military facilities is left up to the military services. Each service is loathe to release any facilities and equally reluctant to use facilities other than their own. The actual responsibility must be placed solely in the hands of the secretary of defense, rather than passed on to each of the three services. To insure that this will be done our military construction subcommittee established for the first time a military installation pool in the department of defense. Before any new facilities can be constructed or enlarged, certification as to the impracticability of the use of any partially used existing facility will be required by the secretary of defense rather than by the individual service secretaries. Millions of dollars can be saved through the effective operation of this military facilities pool.

New training schools have been requested by the individual services at a time when facilities of presently constructed training schools are operating at one-tenth of capacity. An outstanding example of the inability of the defense department in the past to require the services to use existing facilities can be found right in our own state. The air force requested the use of an existing army facility for a missile site located in a very strategic position. This request was denied by the department of the army, based on the partial use of this station for the so-called mobilization requirements and for reserve training purposes. The office of the secretary of defense took no steps to insist upon the use of at least a portion of this facility in lieu of the use of a less desirable new area. The establishment of the military facilities pool for the first time not only can bring about real savings but gives one a feeling of accomplishment.

Mr. Wyngaard's Comments on Trucks, Fees Draws an Answer

Editor, Post-Crescent:

The tirade against truckers in Mr. Wyngaard's column really got my dander up. He states that it is the trucks and not the passenger cars that are breaking up the roads and that he feels that they are driving too fast. He did not state that he and every other car owner pays a measly $16 per year license fee while the truck owner pays anywhere from $250 per year for a small truck to $1,000 and over for the big trucks. This does not include all the other taxes heaped on the truckers by the state. Perhaps if the state equalized the license fees and made the car owners pay $200 and dropped the truck fees down the trucker could drive slower because then he could save the money above the $200 as profit instead of expense which has to be paid.

Then it still wouldn't be too bad if he could drive on the roads when he wanted to, but the state tells him that he cannot drive on many of the main highways on Saturdays and Sundays during the summer months because the passenger car traffic is so heavy (mostly tourists who pay nothing in the State of Wisconsin for road upkeep). He also is forbidden to drive on many state, county, and town roads from 1 to 3 months in the spring with his normal load because they say the roads might break up. They allow such a small tonnage that the trucker must make several trips to haul what he normally would carry on one trip. Does the trucker get a rebate on his license fee for this? Don't be silly. Of course he doesn't. He is just the nasty man who gets in front of someone who can't drive quite as fast as he wants to because that nasty old truck is in front of him.

We believe the state patrol is doing a fine job in watching for traffic violators regardless if they are in a car or in a truck. In fact, we feel that if the state would raise the truck speed limit to 50 or 55 miles per hour the lineups of cars would be less on busy highways. When traffic is heavy from both directions the line can only go as fast as the first vehicle. Why not let the trucks go a little faster so as to keep the traffic moving.

If half of the car drivers were as courteous as most of the truck drivers are, the highways would be a lot better place to drive on. Take for instance, the car driver who just has to get in front of that truck at the corner and darts into his path so that he has to slow way down. The car can take off but the truck driver has to shift down and it takes a long time before he can get his truck rolling again. Had the car driver been courteous he would have let the truck go by and passed him on the open stretch of road where the truck driver would not have been forced to go through the extra shifting. We believe that if the majority of car drivers were educated in the ways a truck must be driven and the amount of room needed by such a huge vehicle to turn corners, back up, park etc. there would be a lot better understanding between the passenger car public and the truck owners and drivers.

I am surprised at not seeing any comment on this in the paper yet. I, for one, certainly am not in favor of it. But if I can't do anything about it; I can, at least, tell you how I feel. Quoted from the Appleton Crescent for the week of Aug. 9, 1879.

The last Steamer excursion under the auspices of the Temple of Honor for the season will take place Saturday, the boat leaving Rogers' Dock at 8 o'clock. The boat will reach Island park in time for a picnic lunch. A fine string band will furnish music for the free dance in the afternoon. The Universalists of Neenah will hold a Sunday School excursion Friday on the Steamer Brooklyn, going to Telulah Springs in Appleton.

The Presbyterian Sunday School of Manitowoc will have an excursion on Wednesday next over the Lake Shore Railway to Appleton. The excursionists will picnic at Telulah Springs.

Fuel dealers of Appleton were to gather with those of the Fox river valley in Oshkosh that night for the purpose of discussing trade practices, and the adoption of a code of fair competition in accordance with the provisions of the National Industrial Recovery act.

First ward residents were up in arms over the large quantities of soot deposited in their homes during the last week and asked John Weiland, city building inspector, to investigate. Mr. Weiland was called to a home where in 20 minutes time he collected a large quantity of soot off the top of a cupboard. He was to have it analyzed in an effort to learn its source.

Charles Maloney, owner and proprietor of the Cinderella ball room, on the Lake road south of Appleton, that week completed a contract with the Eagles club at Oshkosh to manage all dances held in the eagles' ball room there. Mr. Maloney also was to manage the Columbus club ball room at Green Bay.

See Growing Push for State Withholding Tax

BY JOHN WYNGAARD

Madison — Political potpourri:

Watch for a strong push in favor of a state income tax with withholding law next winter when the legislature convenes, as a final improvisation in state fiscal affairs before a total revenue reorganization.

A tax withholding plan will have one built in gimmick that will have powerful appeal to any hard pressed legislature or administration. It will double up revenues the first year. A governor and legislature could "forgive" a part of the normal 1938 taxes due in lump sums in 1939, for example, probably get some political dividends out of the act, and still collect handsomely by the enactment of a withholding system for 1939 current taxes.

Ed Morse Jr., of Lancaster is being boomed in some quarters for a nomination to the state conservation commission next year. He is the current chairman of the Wisconsin Conservation Congress, and a good one.

pensive cars? Do you feel this will be a fair law?

Not too many years ago, I can remember how people squawked at the idea of paying even $16 annually — when they quit reducing license fees according to the depreciation value of the vehicle. I wonder! Are they really going to take this sitting down?

As for the medium class of working people, where two cars are necessary, due to inconvenient bus service, etc., can they afford this extra expense? I would rather be inclined to doubt it. This should eliminate quite a few extra cars from the highways. That would be one way to get excess traffic off Wisconsin highways.

ever, has been lack-lustre thus far, according to all accounts.

Dr. Clifford L. Lord, the head of the State Historical society who is leaving for a job at Columbia University, has attained distinction in his profession. But around the state capitol for many years to come he will be remembered primarily for his phenomenal skill in persuading unwilling legislators to give him handsome boosts in appropriations that made other bureaucratic mouths water. Lord pushed his budget up 6-fold during a relatively short regime. Nothing like it has ever been seen in capitol life. His secrets: A considerable personal charm and unabashed persistence.

Mystery of the fortnight in state politics: Why did the merged AFL-CIO convention endorse Democrats for all state offices, and maintain complete silence about secretary of state?

COURT CHANGES

Planning for Wisconsin court reorganization continues, but with changed objectives. Interested parties now are generally agreed upon a 3-division court system — with some kind of a local court, a circuit court, and the state supreme court. The original blueprint for a circuit court and supreme court system has virtually been abandoned. Prospects are that the more modest alternative will be difficult enough to pass. Neither the legislature or the public appears much interested in a reform of judicial administration.

R. C. Salisbury, "Mr. Highway Safety" of Wisconsin as the long time chief of the safety promotion division of the state motor vehicle department, will probably retire soon.

Some observers are predicting that there will be a strong push for tougher highway law violation penalties in the next legislature, if the state's highway mortality record doesn't show significant improvement this year. The climate is ready for stronger legislation; it is felt.

Republicans who fully expect to control the next legislature have been speculating spiritedly about the election of a new speaker of the state assembly, without much agreement thus far on any strong or likely choice.

Mayor Is Paid Twice, And His Face Is Red

Owensboro, Ky. — (AP) — Mayor Benjamin Hawes noticed his month's check from the city of Owensboro was missing from his billfold.

He put out a stop-payment order on it and the city issued him another check for the same amount. A few days later the original check cleared the bank. It was endorsed in Hawes' handwriting.

The red-faced mayor said he forgot all about cashing it. He wrote the city a check to cover the second one.

Serious Problems Confront Nasser Despite Popularity

BY WILLIAM L. RYAN
New York (U.P.)—Gamal Abdel Nasser has headaches, too.

The Arab east's nosy turmoil gives the impression that the United Arab Republic president is riding the crest of an all-engulfing wave. Nasser may devoutly wish that was so, but there are shoals ahead.

In the bustling northern cities of what now is Nasser's Syrian province there was dancing in the streets at the news of the July 14 coup in Iraq.

Did that please Nasser? Not Altogether. In his July 23 Cairo speech Nasser went out of his way to be sharply critical of northern Syria.

Here was the rub:

The Iraqi coup was a revolution by nationalists—perhaps even extreme nationalists. Was it wholly a Nasser revolution? The man who led it, Brig. Gen. Abdul Karim Kassem, by his own account had plotted revolt against Premier Nuri Said's rule ever since 1934, 18 years before he ever heard of Nasser. Those who supported the revolt owed Nasser little if anything for its success. Indeed, its suddenness seemed to have caught Nasser by surprise.

Naturally Nasser pictured the Iraqi revolt as a personal triumph. He had to do that. The Iraqi regime for its part would capitalize on the support it could demand from Nasser. Yet the U.A.R. president must have had some serious misgivings about the future.

That dancing in the streets in Syria did not mean the celebrants were pro-Nasser. It could even have meant the reverse. Many Syrians after passionately pursuing total union with Egypt suddenly found themselves restive under Nasser's rule. There had been anti-Nasser manifestations in northern Syria, whose practical businessmen chafed at what they considered the U.A.R.'s economic madnesses.

The northern Syrians showed only that they were pro-Iraq. A cherished dream seemed within their grasp: Union with Iraq.

This could mean trouble for Nasser.

Iraq has great oil and mineral wealth. She has an oil-financed economic development program well underway.

After a 3-month survey in the Middle East William L. Ryan is writing of the factors that weigh for and against the United States in the area. This is the third of four uncensored articles.

Syria's economy remains sound. Politically Syria is far more sophisticated than Egypt, and Egypt has little but Nasser.

Syria and Iraq together in the U.A.R. surely would overbalance the Egyptians and eventually dominate the union.

Won't Stop Oil Flow

What does this mean to the west? For one thing, it offers some assurance that, barring grotesque western blunders, oil will continue flowing from the Persian gulf and through Iraq Petroleum Co. pipelines. There are good reasons for expecting this.

Nasser probably will want to move slowly with regard to Iraq. Possibly Iraq's affiliation with Egypt will stop short of full union. It may join the U.A.S. (United Arab States of the U.A.R. and Yemen).

The U.A.R. president has condemned foreign exploitation of Arab resources, but oil is no good to Arabs until it gets to markets. Iraqis cannot extract it or market it. Egypt cannot help them do it. Neither is likely to invite communist bloc help in this respect.

The reasons are manifest. The Iraqis will continue to want the western foreign exchange, with all it means, from their oil production. They are aware, too, that western Europe can do without Iraqi oil if necessary, so long as Kuwait's vast production potential is available. So nationalization of Iraq's oil producing facilities might prove a boom-crang.

But one of Nasser's major goals has been to get his hands on some of the oil revenues from the "have" countries for the benefit of "have-not" Egypt. How does he hasten this without bringing Iraq into the U.A.R. and endangering Egypt's pre-eminence in the union?

While Nasser remains the outstanding symbol of Arab nationalism, Iraq's new regime will pay tribute to him. But Iraq's natural interests are less with Egypt than with the fertile crescent, made up of Syria, Lebanon, Jordan, Iraq and Palestine. Union with Syria would be a vastly satisfying development for many Iraqis and Syrians alike.

Nasser has other troubles, too. The momentum his movement gained by events of the last three months will be lost if he stands still now. But can he afford another major explosion under his auspices?

Enemies at Home

Nasser has enemies in his own country. He is less popular with Egypt's literate population than he is outside. Egypt's economy is in a sorry mess which has required her to pay a bonus on the Egyptian pound in foreign transactions. On the political side, many of Nasser's own supporters fear communism and dread further involvement with the Soviet bloc.

Equally important, many Arabs clearly were shocked by realization that recent events could make the Middle East the cockpit of World war III.

Nasser can ill-afford new explosions now. But neither can he afford to halt his violent propaganda, even now pouring into psychotic little Jordan. Probably only the arrival of British troops saved the life of King Hussein, and their departure surely would mean a new blowoff.

If matters boiled down simply to a Nasser-Hussein contest, the Jordanian king would have little chance of survival. Things are not that simple for Nasser. There are big risks involved for him, too, in the continuing turmoil. There are economic risks at home and political hazards involved with Soviet interests in the area.

A Soviet aim is to keep the Middle East in turmoil and off balance.

If Nasser tries to profit from Soviet aims, he may build up forces which eventually will destroy him. If he does not attempt to profit from Soviet purposes, he risks losing the momentum he has created and the support of the more impatient nationalists of Jordan and the Saudi peninsula.

Nasser's dilemmas may point a course. Western diplomacy could attempt to understand the paradoxes of the Arab east. It could seize the opportunity to give the more moderate nationalists something tangible to grasp in the way of support for their reasonable aspirations.

2 Girls Admit Part In Attack on Daughter Of UN Representative

New York (U.P.)—Two teen-aged girls have admitted being involved in a razor attack on the 16-year-old daughter of Iran's representative to the United Nations.

Patrolman Eugene Hatchett caught Shirley Sherard, 16, through a police artist's sketch of the two assailants. He tracked her down on his own time. With two other officers Hatchett found her on a Bronx street yesterday. She led them to Harriet Fleming, 19. Both girls are Negro.

Shirley told police she merely watched as the Fleming girl cut Frieda Abdoh, daughter of Djalal Abdoh, in Bronx park last May 10. The Abdoh girl's dress was slashed and the little finger on her right hand cut. She was accompanied by her 12-year-old sister, Masti, who helped describe the assailants for police.

The Elimination of All Intersections on the new interstate highway system under construction in Wisconsin requires the provision of countless traffic interchanges and grade separations. Typical interchange designs for new Highway 94, south of Milwaukee on the route that will lead into Chicago, are shown in these illustrations provided by the state highway department.

No Terrain Obstacle Too Big To Halt Modern Roadbuilders

BY JOHN WYNGAARD
Post-Crescent Staff Writer

Milwaukee — One of the reasons for the enduring fame of the empire builders of ancient Rome was their superb skill in highway construction.

But the 20th century highway builders apparently are determined to overtake their ancient Roman counterparts, according to the evidence at hand in the early construction on the new superhighway net to be known as the interstate system.

Wisconsin will have about 450 miles of the superior new roads that will be largely financed by the national government.

John Wyngaard, Post-Crescent staff representative, took part in a public inspection tour of progress made on the interstate highways now being built in Wisconsin with the financial assistance of the federal government. This is the second of a series of articles in which he relates his impressions.

ment in the biggest road building effort of any government in modern history. A sizeable stretch of that system, connecting metropolitan Milwaukee county with the Illinois line to the south, is now under construction and ought to be open at the end of next year.

The new road system is being designed according to the most advanced modern plan. There is no corner cutting in costs. The average cost will be about $1,000,000 a mile, which may be a disturbing figure to that older resident who may remember a quarter of a century or more ago when the first state highway system was being developed and costs of $50,000 a mile were sometimes thought to be prohibitive.

The highway engineer today is enabled to plan a road where he wants it and where it will serve most effectively. Nothing stops him, hills or rivers, lakes or swamps. He can meet his objective of connecting any two points. If there is a curve in the design, it is there for the safety of the user and his comfort—not because of topographical reasons.

Huge earth moving machinery south of Milwaukee is now excavating hundreds of thousands of tons of muck from some of the lowlands, and replacing it with the kind of solid earth that provides the drainage and the strength a heavily used surface requires.

Divided Highway. The "I" system will have two lane divided roadway over its entire length, and three lanes divided in some of the more densely used sections.

The average right-of-way width will be about 400 feet, or fully a third wider than the most advanced roads built in Wisconsin until now.

The concrete road surface under construction and ought to be the thickest ever laid in Wisconsin, a full 10 inches. The specifications call for a minimum of 17 inches of base course, which is also superior to most of the other roads in the state in the past.

A heavy element of cost in modern road construction is the acquisition of right of way. Beautiful farms, homesteads, rural business establishments and other properties are going down before the earth movers, as the state acquires hundreds of property parcels for the new high speed and high traffic thoroughfare. The new road program is being planned according to an expected 10 to 20 per cent cost for property purchases.

Laying the final surface, in today's road building, is a density of the job can be under-tail of the enterprise and a stood with the reminder that rapidly executed detail. The one acre of land one foot in modern concrete paving machine can cover 2,000 feet of. The Interstate system is 24-foot, 10-inch surface in a being built according to design working day. But high standards as high as any months of preparatory work now being applied to any road are required in cutting down in the country. In effect, they hills and excavating for the base course. On one segment of Interstate Highway 94 in Racine county a corps of giant earth movers is engaged in the task of moving 800,000 yards of earth. The immensurprisingly, have not advanced in price since more primitive times and some times are actually less expensive. Without the tremendous technological advances of the road builders in the last decade, it is doubtful that the state and national governments could afford these advanced designs. An example is the cost of excavating and moving earth fill. It is being moved at a cost of about 40 cents a yard, which compares favorably with the price a generation ago.

These giant road projects also suggest the political changes the public road system has undergone in the lifetime of most of the highway taxpayers. Little more than 40 years ago the Wisconsin road system was a primitive one, financed by local governments generally following old military road routes or the mean derings of Indian trails of pre-historic times. The state government, entered the program and gradually built up the state trunk highway system through the state taxing power. State highway revenues today are higher than ever before, around $100,000,000 a year. But even the state's enormous financial power is inadequate to the road service demands of today.

A Section of Dead Elm wood shows the small "feeder tunnels" made by a species of black beetle which carries the Dutch elm disease from tree to tree. The beetle makes a deep main groove, like the one shown in the wood, and cuts many smaller channels. The disease plugs the elm's water conducting tissues and eventually kills the tree. (Post-Crescent Photo)

Agent Tells Symptoms of Elm Disease

Fungus Affliction Causes Heavy Losses Among Shade Trees

Although recent inspection by state and local agricultural officials has shown that few trees in the Fox Cities area are afflicted by Dutch elm disease, the need for public understanding of the disease still is important, John E. Powers, Outagamie county agent, says.

Dutch elm disease is a fatal disease of elms caused by a fungus, he said. It attacks all native and European elm species and has caused extremely heavy losses in many shade tree areas of the United States, including southern Wisconsin.

About 1,100 cases have been found in the state so far, Powers noted.

Asiatic Origin

The disease, Powers said, is believed to be of Asiatic origin and was introduced to this country in 1930 on European logs, but wasn't reported in Wisconsin until 1956, when it was found in Beloit.

Early symptoms are wilting, curling and yellowing of elm leaves. Leaf fall usually takes place, followed by death of the wilted branches. Once the disease has started there is no way to save the tree.

The disease is spread by two species of dark beetles, Powers explained. When they feed and lay eggs under the bark, both adult and larvae become contaminated and carry the disease from tree to tree.

The photo accompanying this story shows a section of diseased elm used by Powers in demonstrations. The beetle burrows a single main channel and several side channels, making a pattern common to all diseased trees. Common entry points for the beetles are the crotch of young twigs.

Kills Tree

Once the disease takes effect, it destroys the tree by plugging its water conducting tissues.

The only way to control the disease, according to Powers, is destruction of the insect carriers. Sanitation measures include burning the tree, removing and burning the bark and burial of the diseased material under at least a foot of soil.

Application of a DDT or methoxyde spray provides a residue which prevents beetle feeding on healthy trees during the critical spring and summer months. The spray should cover every twig on the tree.

Health Board Urges Rabies Control Law

The city should have a rabies control program for dogs, the board of health decided Tuesday.

A recommendation will be made to the city council tonight for a new ordinance requiring vaccinations of dogs for rabies every two years.

The ordinance also should provide, the health board said, that no dog licenses will be issued until proof of vaccination is produced.

Board members took the stand after a conference with Drs. John L. Wilson, Neenah, H. R. Trombley and K. M. Giese, Appleton, and D. L. Jones, city meat inspector.

The veterinarians said the program should be adopted on county and state levels and the board ordered its recommendation of the plan forwarded to the health and education committee of the county board.

Held for study was a Visiting Nurse's association request to hike the city's payment to the VNA from $175 a month to at least $250 a month.

Capital Outlay Plan Endorsed by City Committee

Formation of a capital improvements plan has been endorsed by the city council's finance committee.

The plan, urged by former Mayor Robert L. Roemer two years ago and by Ald. Roy Pointer at the last council meeting, should be drafted by the board of public works, the finance committee said.

The plan would outline major projects of the future and give city officials an idea of when and how to arrange financing.

The committee put off until November budget sessions consideration of a request to participate in financing a child guidance center.

David Bliss, president of Outagamie County Community Guidance Center, at the last council meeting asked for aid in construction of a child center.

Finance committeemen told City Clerk Elden J. Broehm to find out from Bliss what the city's share would be, how it would be determined and specifically what plans are formulated.

Village Board Okays Budget Chart System

A graph chart system to help committee chairmen keep within their budgets was adopted by the Little Chute village board Tuesday night.

Under the new plan, recommended by Clarence Lamers, chairman of the finance committee, each chairman will receive a chart indicating his budget total. He will keep a running account on the chart of expenditures through the year.

The board approved cutting of grade terraces on Lincoln avenue, where sidewalks have been lowered. It decided to give sewer pipe to James Versteeg, who will install it on his Franklin street property.

In other business the board approved printing of the 1,000 village financial reports. Received a $2,896 check from the state, the village's

Permits Issued for Two More New Homes, Underground Tanks

Permits for two more houses and installation of two 1,000-gallon underground gasoline tanks have been issued by Building Inspector Walter Bogan.

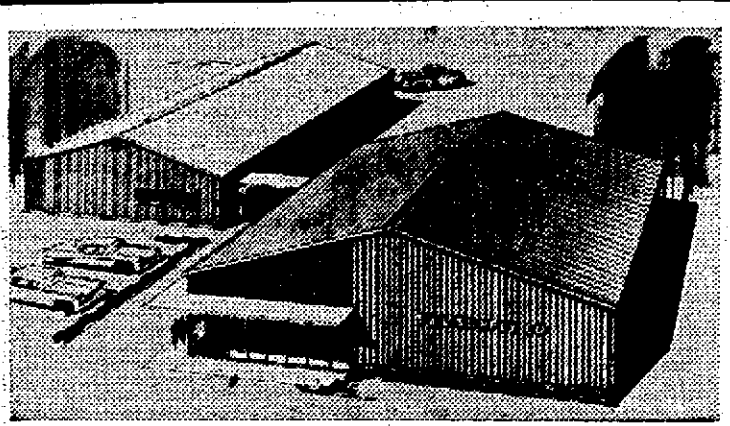

The home permits, granted Willis Schumacher and Elroy Woods, bring to 151 the number of such permits issued this year.

Schumacher will build a 7-room house, with bath and powder room, at 1036 W. Frances street for about $15,000. Woods will build a 5-room house, with bath, at 2112 E. Clara street for about $8,000.

The gasoline tanks will be installed by Krambo Food Stores at a warehouse at 1320 W. Wisconsin avenue.

Mouse Doesn't Like Life in a Stamp Machine

London — It was snug in there, but Tiny couldn't stand the continual thunder of falling pennies. The range of pictures also was somewhat restricted—2,000 portraits of Queen Elizabeth II.

Tiny was a baby white mouse. He was trapped in a postage stamp vending machine. This is what happened:

While he worked the machine, 9-year-old Terry Payne parked his inch-long mouse in the cup where rejected coins come out.

Tiny squeezed up into the works and for a long time couldn't find his way down again. All he could see in the gloom were hundreds of penny stamps—all bearing the queen's head.

Tiny squeaked.

Terry called the police.

The police called the post office.

But it was a holiday weekend and no one was available to open up the stamp machine.

Terry had to wait until yesterday before a post office clerk unlocked the machine. There was no sign of Tiny.

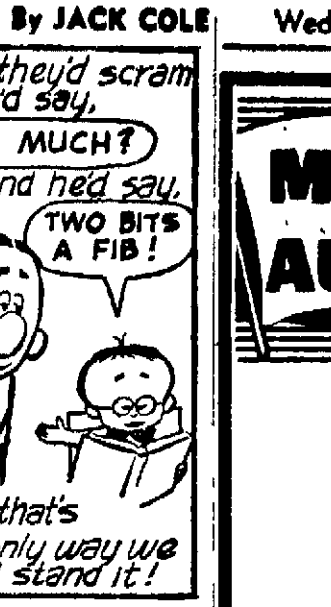

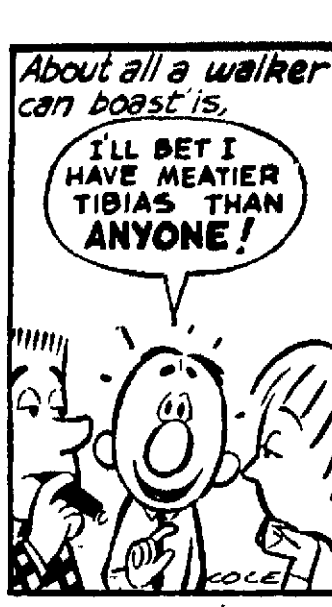

Terry theorized his pet got out the same way he got in.

Ike Ready to Sit At UN Conference

CONTINUED FROM PAGE 1 brought up in the letter the idea of an ultimate over-all summit conference such as has been under negotiation off and on since last December. Eisenhower said the United States' purpose in any UN debate on the Middle East will be first to show that this country has acted within the UN charter and second to concentrate on constructive measures to help the people of the area. He said he has no faith in negative measures, and troops will not win the peace. This nation must act in a positive manner and assist the Middle Eastern countries to realize their legitimate aspirations, Eisenhower said. Asked whether the United States accepts Russia as a power in the Middle East and whether it would be prepared to join in economic development programs and border guarantees with the Soviet Union, Eisenhower said this nation ought to act through the UN in the matter. Economic Measures Apparently referring primarily to economic measures, he said the United States would be prepared to go along with any discussion of the kind and he hoped the Soviet Union would too. Top officials were privately pleased that the fight between Russia and the western powers will come in the assembly, rather than at a summit conference. Secretary of State Dulles among others was known to fear that a summit meeting would very likely do more harm than good. Khrushchev himself could head the Soviet delegation to the emergency assembly session if he chose. Some officials speculated that he might do so, but most thought he would not. They interpreted a letter he sent Eisenhower as backing completely away from the whole summit conference idea at this time. His bewildering switch in policy, the latest in a series of twists and turns over the past three weeks, had officials guessing. Most said that he probably had finally rejected western proposals for a summit meeting in the 11 nation UN security council on the insistence of communist China. He conferred in Peking late last week with Mao Tse-tung and other red Chinese leaders.

Sherman Adams on the job as his chief aide. Eisenhower replied he had made a statement on that matter some weeks ago, and would have nothing more to say on the subject. In his earlier statement, the president said Adams was imprudent in his relations with Boston Industrialist Bernard Goldfine, but "I need him" on the job in the White House. Health—Edward T. Fol-liard of the Washington Post called Eisenhower's attention to speculation in English newspapers that the president's health is not good. "Look Pretty Good" Folliard told Eisenhower "you look pretty good to me," and asked how he was feeling. The president smiled and thanked Folliard. He said the effort to get house action writers of the stories had not consulted him or his doctors. Eisenhower said there when and if the bill comes before him. He added that if any measure reaching him includes principles which he already has enunciated, he will support it. Foreign aid — Eisenhower said he has never worked so hard as he has in an effort to get congress to pass a bill carrying enough foreign aid funds to help the United States bolster the free world.

League Failed Before World War II, Dulles said the League of Nations failed to halt "some powerful countries, under aggressive and expansionist leadership." "Now it is international communism that seeks to rule the world, by direct and indirect aggression, it has already gained control of nearly a third of the population of the world and it utilizes that power to extend further its rule." Collective defense agreements of the free world, backed by U.S. military power, have deterred "open armed aggression," Dulles said. "But efforts at indirect aggression have not been deterred."

Market Basket Major Support in Economy

New York, N. Y. — Mrs. America's preoccupation with a balanced diet, food easily shopped for and prepared, and colorfully served to her family is today more than ever a major support of the economy in a growing America.

The Advertising Council's latest report on U. S. business shows that 29 to 32 per cent of the average family dollar after taxes is spent in the grocery shops and supermarkets. By the end of 1958, 175 million Americans will have eaten their way to the top of a mountainous $80 billion food bill.

This 500 per cent increase in dollar food outlays since 1939 is not incidental. It points to food sales as a prime factor in economic stabilization. Nor is the increase accidental. The American wife in her role as purchasing agent is courted by food processors, packaging experts, supermarket planners, motivation researchers — and even the farmer — as no queen in history ever was.

It is estimated that almost $10 billion was spent in 1957 by U. S. businesses engaged in filling attractively (even seductively) 40 billion cans, 80 billion glass jars and 115 billion boxes Color, content, and even the instructions on these stuffs are geared to what the housewife has indicated she wants.

Grocery experts estimate an average of 24 new products per day are offered to the markets serving this important customer — and these products are the result of a year's average of $100 million in food and drink research.

Frozen Foods

Frozen foods, non-existent in 1914, are today a $1.9 billion business that started to grow only with the development of a special coated package that resisted moisture in freezing. Mixes — for cakes, biscuits, piecrust, frostings, stuffings and pasta — that were not even a dream in grandmother's head back in 1879 accounted for $450 million in 1957 grocery sales and will top their own record this year.

The millions of Americans who have eaten too well or too much have pushed the 12-year-old diet food business — fat and calorie-free products — to a 1957 high of $68 million.

The ideal new product is defined as one that is acceptable to almost all ages, income levels, geographical sections, and is used several times a day.

"Easy does it" has become the rule of the American kitchen. Frozen foods, mixes, and staples in fliptops, squeezeable plastic or disposable foil have unwrapped a whole larder of foods or complete meals that take but a few minutes from freezer to dinner party.

And it's not only what goes on in the modern market or streamlined kitchen that makes the dollar difference on which economists focus. What goes on before and after is of equal importance.

Grocery manufacturers, for instance are working with the farmers as are large manufacturers of antibiotics and fertilizers. More than 96 per cent of all the crops now grown for human consumption are grown from varieties of seeds unknown 20 years ago. Baking potatoes don't sprout during storage; beets are redder, carrots more orange, pea pods crisper and mold-resistant — thanks to research monies of food processors and laboratory ingenuity.

Your chicken fricassee is all white meat; omelettes are more golden; pork chops have less fat, more meat. Vegetables stay green during cooking; real cane sugar grows twice as high; porterhouse steaks rate a heavier vitamin and calorie count per mouthful, thanks to minute doses of antibiotics introduced during the products' early growth period.

For example: Antibiotics are given the pork chop when it's still a suckling pig, the fertilizer which is used on the ground from the earth (that is, before the vegetable seeds are planted) contains a very small amount of antibiotics and your steak is apt to get its dose while it's still a bawling calf.

Irradiation of food begun last year under government and army auspices will shortly bring to market — and market baskets from coast to coast — radiated foods to be stocked and carried without any refrigeration at all.

Next Year May See Big Steel Strike

Companies Can't Afford to Absorb
Higher Wage Costs

By DAVID LAWRENCE
Washington — Next year may see the biggest steel strike in American history.

For the steel industry, which has just absorbed about half of the automatic increase in wages — fixed by a contract made in boom times — cannot afford to do so again. In 1959, when the labor contracts are up for renewal, a strike seems certain unless there is an abandonment of demands for higher wages by the unions.

If the steel companies had put up their prices this time to offset entirely the full labor costs, the increase of $4.50 per ton announced recently would have had to rise to around $7 or $8 a ton.

The statisticians on a major steel company say that if there had been no price increases since 1955, it would today be operating $30,000,000 a year in the red.

The steel companies, moreover, have to find a way not only to meet the direct increases in wages imposed by the industry-wide union in steel but to offset the price rises for the raw materials the steel companies buy which are themselves affected by the upward trend in steel wages.

Estimated Costs
Thus it is estimated that, apart from the $7 or $8 a ton of increased costs due to direct wage increases, another item of at least $1.50 a ton has to be absorbed which comes from the higher costs of wages in brick plants, alloy plants, acid plants, and in the purchase of such materials as aluminum, vanadium, nickel and zinc.

What is the answer? It is to be found in greater productivity per man — hour by labor or in technological improvements through larger and larger capital expenditures. The latter course has thus far saved the steel companies from bankruptcy — as they have introduced new mechanical gadgets and bigger and better power plants. But to do this requires millions and millions of dollars of more capital, and the investor is not attracted to industries which don't give a substantial return on the money invested.

Since the steel industry recently raised its prices, a howl has gone up from spokesmen for a congressional committee. An assistant attorney general at the department of justice in charge of antitrust laws speaks of the possibility of an investigation to see if any statutes were violated.

But why is the obvious overlooked? Hasn't anybody herebefore ever heard of industry-wide bargaining — the practice sanctioned by federal law which imposes a uniform wage cost on the steel companies?

Sen. Kefauver, chairman of a senate subcommittee on "monopoly" problems, asks: "Why are identical price increases put into effect by all companies at the same time when each has different costs? This is the key question."

Of course, it is the key question, and it has been ever since the congress permitted labor unions to group together in a single monopoly in each industry.

Each company has to base its prices on what kind of earnings and rate of return on the invested dollar must be obtained to attract the investor. This also means a rather uniform pattern. A company that thinks it can get large volume by cutting prices is likely to find itself mistaken and also bankrupt. For the wage costs are such that, if it were not for the price increases, announced by the leaders in an industry, the others would put their own prices even higher.

Minimum Price
So the effect is to bring about minimum rather than maximum price increases, and the answer to the "key question" about prices in big industries is to be found in the industry-wide bargaining process which fixes the same wage rates for all companies.

There have been frequent demands that the president call a wage-price conference to exert a moral influence on economic groups. But the chief executive is powerless to bring about remedial legislation. The congress, which could abolish monopolies and keep prices down, isn't doing anything about labor legislation designed to reduce the monopoly power of big unions in America. The congress is dominated by the big labor unions which regularly make substantial campaign contributions to a large number of the candidates for congress on the Democratic party ticket. And the Democratic control what legislation shall be passed by congress.

Under the American system of private enterprise there must be self-restraint on both sides — labor and management — if economic anarchy is to be avoided. The answer does not lie in a government-subsidized or controlled industry but in the common sense that inevitably must be applied when there is a full exposition of all the facts. A constructive result could be achieved if a statesmanlike approach were taken by a congressional committee of inquiry.

Savory Stew Served With Dumplings Good Any Season

BY EDITH M. BARBER

Nothing draws greater praise than a good stew or pot roast. We can enjoy it in any kind of weather when it is made carefully with a long, slow cooking, and seasoned just as it should be.

It is astonishing what different results there can be even when the same cuts of meat are used. Of course, beef free from gristle should be chosen. I always distrust the sign "Stewing Meat" when I market. While dumplings are not always served with stew, they are a treat that can be prepared from a biscuit mix if you like.

Not long ago, I was invited to dinner by a man who knows his meat. He selected personally a piece of corned beef brisket and all of us at his table enjoyed it thoroughly. It was flanked by potato balls, tender carrots and small onions. A tart watermelon pickle was passed with the meat. A sliced cucumber or mustard pickles is also good with corned beef.

Sometimes, a brown sauce flavored with chopped pickles, capers or olives, or a combination of all, is chosen for service with corned beef. Some persons like a hot mixed mustard and chili sauce as accompaniments.

Stew Burgundy
2 tablespoons shortening
2 pounds beef, cubed and floured
1 large onion, thinly sliced
1 cup boiling water
1 cup burgundy or claret wine
1 bouillon cube
1 tablespoon chopped parsley
1 bay leaf
Salt and pepper to taste
2 cups diced potatoes
1 cup diced carrots
1 cup diced celery
Dumplings

Heat shortening in heavy saucepan and add floured meat and onion. Stir over low heat until meat is browned. Add water, wine, bouillon cube, parsley and seasonings. Cover and simmer, stirring occasionally, one to one and a half hours, or until meat is almost tender. Add vegetables and continue cooking, 15 to 20 minutes, or until vegetables are tender. Top with dumplings. Cook uncovered 15 minutes. Basting frequently with the stew gravy.

Beef Stew Can be as Much a summer dish as a winter one if it is served attractively. Here it is served with dumplings and a crisp, cold salad.

Dumplings
1/2 cup milk
1 1/2 cups biscuit mix
1/3 cup chopped chives or green onion tops
Stir into milk the biscuit mix and chives or onion tops. Drop mixture by tablespoonfuls on gently boiling stew. (Copyright, 1958)

Eggs Poached in Butter Flavorful

"How do you like your eggs?"

That is a question that may be asked at breakfast time unless a regular routine has been established by the family. Eggs poached in butter are a compromise between the usual poached eggs and eggs in fried form.

When prepared in this way, the eggs are tender but they have more flavor than when they are done in water, and for this reason they are popular. While they are no suggested for daily use in the menu pattern, there is no reason why they can not appear regularly and in the form they are best liked.

If bacon is another item expected on the breakfast menu, eggs may be poached in the drippings and they will still be tender if the skillet is covered during their cooking.

Trucker Pays $519 Fine for Overloading

Appleton Man Fined $100 for Leading Police on Chase

A rural Shiocton trucker was fined $519 for a 6,700-pound axle overload when he appeared Tuesday before Municipal Judge Oscar J. Schmiede.

Richard A. Hongerford, 24, route 1, Shiocton, also was fined $15 for a 6,350-pound license overload. He was arrested by the state patrol and pleaded no contest to both charges.

Kenneth H. Selig, 23, 1214 E. Hancock street, was fined $100, his driver's license was revoked for six months and was charged six points for driving 100 miles an hour in a 55-mile zone. County police testified they followed Selig and were unable to catch him until he stopped for a stop sign. He told police that he was in a hurry to get home. Selig also was fined $15 and charged four points for driving without a license.

Arlin E. Krueger, 20, 2219 N. Appleton street, was fined $50 for driving too fast for conditions. Krueger could not stop for a truck turning left Sunday and sideswiped a car coming in the opposite direction. The offense will cost him four points, and the accident three more. Judge Schmiede revoked his license for six months, but stayed execution on the condition that Krueger is not arrested for another moving traffic violation in the next year.

David H. Doerfler, 18, 327 W. Eighth street, $3.95 court costs, license revoked a year with the last 11 months stayed if Doerfler is not arrested for a moving traffic violation (age 17 at time of offense).

John P. McMorrow, 21, 428 Wisconsin avenue, Kaukauna, $35, three points, license revoked three months, but stayed if McMorrow is not arrested for a moving traffic violation in the next year.

Celvester H. Buss, 18, route 2, Menasha, $25 and three points.

Paul H. Barrett, 61, Menominee, $10 and three points.

Arthur S. Haas, 20, route 2, Seymour, $15 and three points.

Walter W. Beyersdorf, 24, 1008 Wyman street, New London, $15 and three points.

Illegal Parking
Charged four points and fined $10 each for illegal parking were:

Edward Meyer, 19, route 3, Fond du Lac; Irene M. Kauer, route 3, Kaukauna; and Richard Buxton, 1130 Third avenue.

Charged four points each for illegal passing were:

Jeff P. Kopp, 19, Waupaca, 25, and James H. Gillis, 23, Green Bay, $20.

Charged three points and fined $10 each for ignoring traffic signals were:

Leslie D. Tackman, 62, route 1, Appleton; and James O. Hillegas, 20, 230 N. Morrison street.

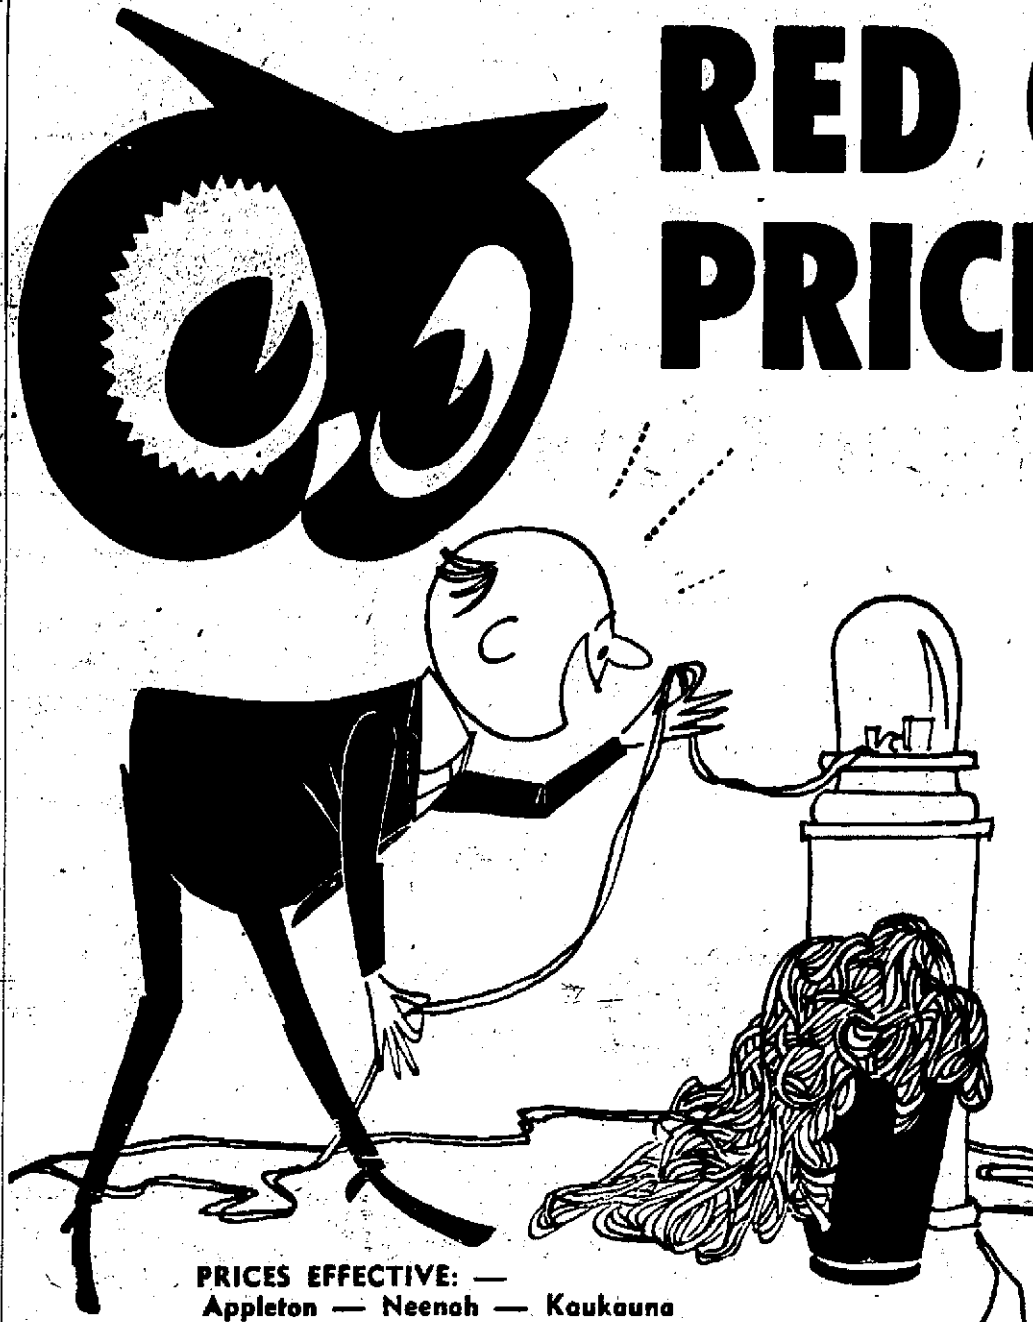

Otto J. Zastrow, 50, route 2, Neenah, was fined $15 for allowing a person under 18 to drive and Eldor Zastrow, same address, was fined $20 and charged four points for driving without a license.

Charged with registration violations were:

Michael Klein, 74, 221 W. Eleventh street, Kaukauna, denied, $8.95 bond for Aug. 26 trial; Kathryn O'Brien, 44, 1514 S. Outagamie street, $10, and August Schroeder, 78, 223 N. Mason street, dismissed upon payment of $3.95 court costs.

Edward J. Flynn, Sr., route 2, West DePere, was fined $20 and charged three points, for illegal brakes.

Man Lights Candle To Find Gas Leak
Canton, Ohio — (U) — Firemen here say they have a sequel to the story of the guy who lit a match to see if his car's gas tank was empty. An apartment-dweller lit a candle, they say, to see if a gas pipe was leaking. It was — but firemen confined the resulting fire to the kitchen, and shut off the gas before the uninjured tenant could try any more research.

In Good Taste No Sense In Spoiling Vacation

BY EMILY POST

Dear Mrs. Post: A friend and I are planning to take a motor trip west on our vacation. Another young woman whom we both know, but who is not an intimate friend, asked us what we were going to do on our vacation. When we told her she asked if she might join us. This person is a known complainer and we feel that she will spoil the trip for us and frankly we don't want her along. How can we tactfully handle this situation?

Answer: You might explain that you are sorry but that your car has only enough room for you two and your baggage.

On Farewells

Dear Mrs. Post: I tried to say good-by to a friend before she left for an extended European trip but something interfered and I never got to see her. I explained this to her when she returned but she seemed very much put out and I don't think she believed that I tried to see her. This brings up the question: Shouldn't people who are going away for any length of time actually be the ones to make the effort to say good-by to their friends and not the other way round?

Answer: There is no rule that covers this. In general, you are right because unless the one going away says good-by how can she expect all her friends to know she is leaving.

Build Safety Into Home; Site of Many Accidents Pair Says Vows in Double Ring Rites

Home accidents in the United States claim some 28,000 people killed each year. O. L. Hogsett, extension safety specialist at the University of Illinois, says it is important to build as much safety into your home as possible.

A few safety tips he suggests include putting controls high enough on overhead garage doors to keep small children from reaching them.

Flashing around chimneys and vent pipes should be provided, and fireplaces should be equipped with damper and wind shelf.

Light switches should be placed out of reach of bathtubs and showers. Closet locks or bolts should be located above the reach of small children.

Your Problems

'To Kiss or Not to Kiss' That Is Question Raised by Teener

BY ANN LANDERS

DEAR ANN: I'm a boy, 17 and afraid to give a girl a goodnight kiss. I became afraid when two young ladies in a row slapped my face. I didn't get fresh. I simply kissed them and then pow—I caught it right in the musk.

Ann Landers: The reason I'm so mixed-up is this: I took a very nice girl to a dance Saturday night. When I brought her home I shook hands with her at the door. She gave me a funny look, sort of held her face up and closed her eyes. I walked away.

The next day I heard from her best friend she thought I was a first-class odd-ball and she wouldn't go out with me again for all the tea in China. You can see why I'm so confused. Should a fellow kiss a girl goodnight or not—and how in the heck does he know when to try?—J. B.

No two girls are exactly alike and there's no sure way to determine who's going to enjoy a goodnight kiss and who's going to give you a belt in the chops.

A good way to keep from losing too many teeth is to make a flat rule that you aren't going to try for a kiss until the third date. And when a girl closes her eyes and puckers up it doesn't mean she wants to shake hands, Dummy.

DEAR ANN: Our next door neighbors are impossible. They built a fence to keep our children off their property. Then they built a trellis and planted rose bushes along the fence.

When we get out of our car (in the driveway) their rose-bushes are so overgrown that we get thorns in our eyes. The children have had several sharp cuts on their faces. We've asked the neighbors to trim the bushes but they say trimming would destroy their beauty.

When we threatened to cut them they said they'd sue us as the bushes are their property. Their son is a junior in law school and he is advising them.—C.O.L.

Their son should have stayed awake in his classes on property law. He gave his parents bum advice. You may trim the branches that extend to your property. Anything parallel to the fence and on your property belongs to you.

DEAR ANN: Three years ago my husband's war buddy showed up at our front door with a 5-day beard and 27 cents in his pocket. We took him in, although we were in bad financial shape ourselves and had only a 3-room apartment.

Our son was 2 years old and I was pregnant and feeling rotten. Yet I washed and ironed for the big jerk, and made him feel welcome. He made himself at home, ate everything in sight and made long-distance calls on our phone. He horned into our social life and bored our friends beyond endurance with stories of his high I.Q. and rich relatives.

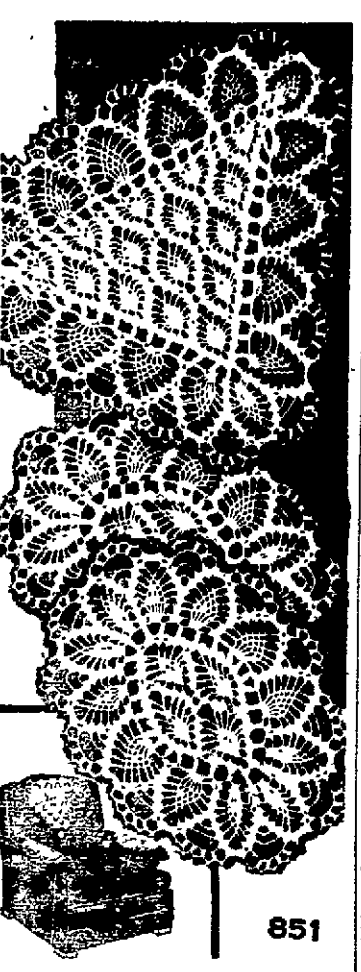

After three months I couldn't stand it any longer so I found him a room in the neighborhood. Over my husband's objections. He still came around for dinner every night and stuck like glue.

Six months later he lost his job and left town. I was the happiest woman alive. Things seemed to take a turn for the better at once. My husband was promoted and we were able to make a down payment on a darling little bungalow. Everything was heavenly until last week. The pest called at 2 AM and he is coming back. I told my husband if he moves in, I move out. I'm pregnant again and the thought of having him around nauseates me. My husband says I'm selfish. Am I? Your verdict, please.—Bernice Selfish my eye. It is your husband who's selfish—imposing this freeloader on his family. HE doesn't have to cook and clean for him.

Stick to your guns. Your husband's first obligation is to you. There's a vast difference between helping out friends in a pinch and being easy pickins'.

Amateurs Can Refinish Old Woodwork

"Our first home will be a small apartment in an old house," writes Miss L. N., who will be married next month. "We like it except for the dark woodwork, which the landlord won't allow us to paint. He says he won't object to our refinishing it in a light wood color, though. Do you think a good job could be done by amateurs like us?"

Yes, you two could change the woodwork successfully to a color you like, Miss N.—if there's a right good will, there's a way. Most of the difficulty depends on the removal of the old finish. It may come off after an application of varnish remover or it may require several applications of the remover and industrious use of a wood scraper. The bleaching that must be done is less difficult—bleaching preparations, usually two sister kinds, are as easily applied as paint and produce excellent results. Refinishing is a matter of applying one of the new wood finishes that come in so many handsome light shades. Of course all of this means tackling all the wood surfaces over and over, and many of them with complicated moldings means plenty of work.

Mrs. C. R. "The living room in our new home is 28' x 12' and the ceiling drops at the end which is intended to be used as a dining room. I'd like to use this end of the room for a family TV room instead.

Is this advisable? We have a large kitchen and entertainment also. A mirror from our old home doesn't reach from the mantel to the ceiling. Should it be placed to leave equal space above and below, or low to meet the mantel top?"

It's a good idea to buy an expandable table, perhaps card tables size at its smallest, for the end of the room which might very well be used for games and people like to sit at such a table to talk. Refreshments would be so easily served there and the table would be ready in case it were needed for the serving of meals. The mirror should be set close to the mantel top, but not necessarily touching it.

Mrs. S. Q. "The beige rug from our present living room will look small in the living room of the home we're about to move into, especially since the floor is dark oak that needs refinishing. Would the rug be improved if I had the rug dyed green to match the sofa and two chairs?"

If the color of the rug is right for your color scheme as it is, the better idea would be to refinish the floor in a shade near the beige color, so the rug and floor will blend into a one-color look. It might be difficult to repeat the green in dye color over beige.

Frenchmen Are Unhappy About Sack Fashion

Dornbirn, Austria—The sack fashion proved catastrophic for Europe's garment industry, a ranking French expert has said.

Albert Lempereur, president of the "Association des Maisons Francaises de Couture En Gros" told a news conference that the controversial sack style had been a complete failure.

"Started far too early by a Paris fashion house, the sack fashion caused tremendous losses for the garment industry," he said.

"I will make precise proposals at the forthcoming congress of the Union of the European Garment Industries at Brussels to prevent a similar catastrophe in the future," he added.

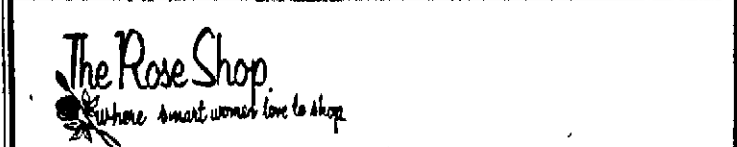

Lempereur predicted that the attempts by the Paris fashion designers to lengthen the frocks will be doomed. He is attending the Dornbirn International Textile fair, showing here the latest styles of the French garment industry.

Start Now to Combat Hay Fever; Suffering Patient Can be Helped

By Dorothy V. Whipple, M.D.

Hay fever is a form of allergy that occurs at a definite time of year. The term "hay fever" is certainly not a good one, since there is very seldom any fever associated with this condition and hay almost never has anything to do with it.

The disease is caused by pollen and develops in those individuals — children and adults—who have an allergic sensitivity to the pollen.

A better name for the disease would be pollen allergy. Nevertheless hay fever is a firmly entrenched term and probably will continue to be used.

Describe Symptoms

The attack of hay fever is ushered in with an attack of violent sneezing and a flow of clear watery fluid from the nose. The eyes are likely to be red and to water freely. Often the eyes are more than normally sensitive to bright light. There may be headache, and a general feeling of lassitude. Hay fever victims seldom sleep well. Children may be cross and irritable. (Some adults with hay fever may be pretty chatty too!)

The disease is caused by Windborne Pollens. Spring hay fever is due to pollens of trees — maple, oak, elm, birch, cottonwood, pecan. Midsummer symptoms come usually from grass pollens—timothy, sweet vernal, Bermuda or orchard grass, or from the fungus spores of wheat and corn rusts.

Late summer and fall hay fever, the most common variety, is usually due to pollen from the ragweed family of plants.

The symptoms vary in severity depending upon the amount of pollen in the air and on the weather conditions. Some years seem much worse than other years.

Rain Reduces Pollen

Symptoms are likely to be more severe on dry, windy days and in the early morning. Heavy rains tend to reduce the pollen count and make the hay fever victim more comfortable.

A careful history helps in making a diagnosis of hay fever. A combination of symptoms such as described above that comes on pretty regularly at the same time of year every year is certainly suggestive of hay fever.

In addition the seasonal appearance of the symptoms suggests the general class of pollens causing the trouble.

Confirm Allergy

There are in addition certain laboratory tests that can be used to confirm the fact that the disease is of allergic origin and not an infection. Once this much is determined, then a few skin tests can be done to determine which particular pollen is responsible. This knowledge will reduce the number of skin tests needed to pinpoint the offending pollen.

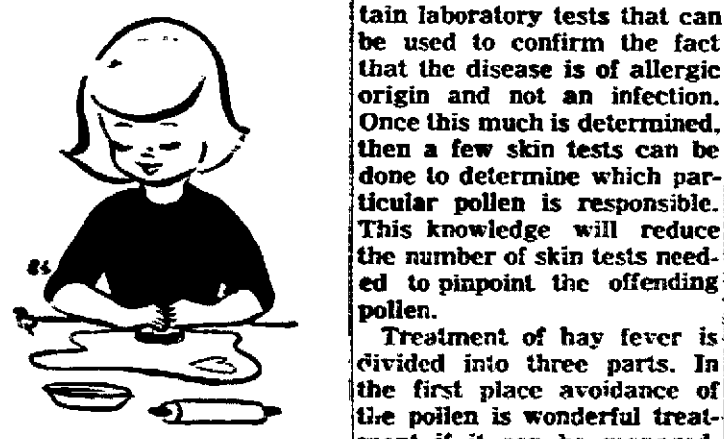

Treatment of hay fever is divided into three parts. In the first place avoidance of the pollen is wonderful treatment if it can be managed. If the symptoms last only a few weeks plan a vacation at this time and go where the pollen is not present. This of course not possible for many families.

Air Conditioner Help

The next best bet is an air conditioner that filters the pollen out of the air.

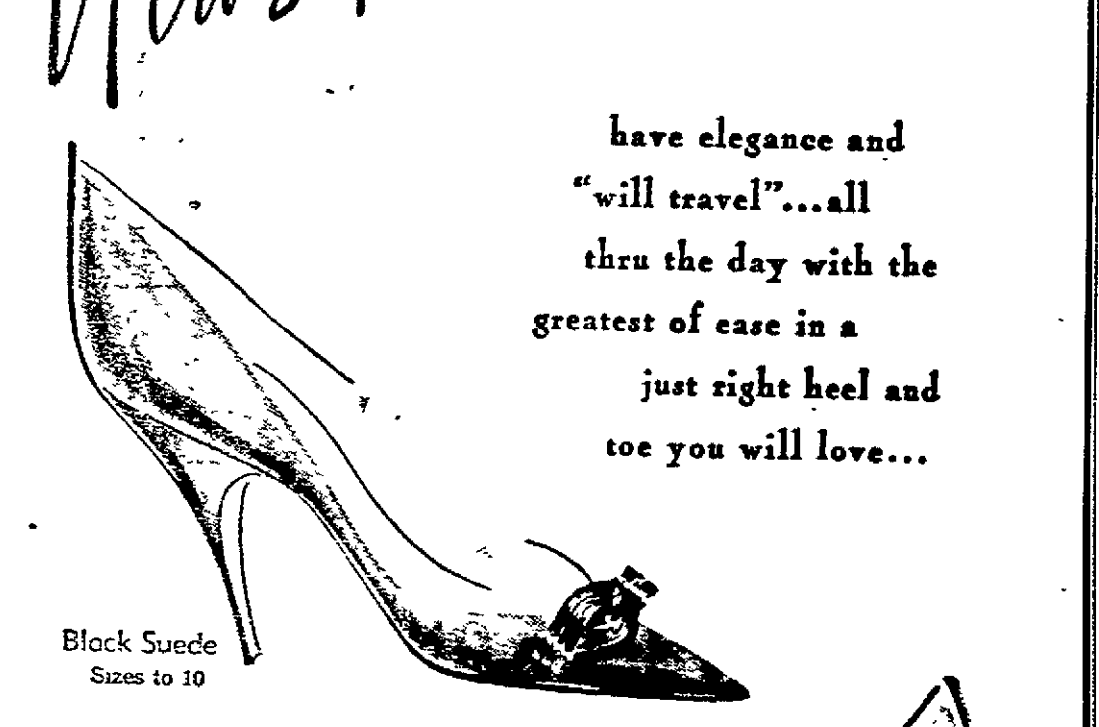

When complete avoidance

Local Action Cited as Way to Keep Extension

Outagamie Citizens Agree to Place UW Facility in Center of Population Area

A University of Wisconsin extension center for the Fox Cities depends on local action, a group of Outagamie county citizens and a special county board committee were told Tuesday night by UW officials.

The Outagamie county people unanimously told the county board members they want the extension center "placed in the geographical center of the population to be served, without regard to political boundaries."

Thus far, discussions in Winnebago county have indicated a $500,000 plant to be paid for by Winnebago and Outagamie counties, since they send the bulk of students to the UW extension. After building is built, the state installs equipment and furnishes instruction. Since the state subsidizes each student's tuition by about $400 per year, state investment in the institution soon equals that of the counties, it was pointed out.

About 30 persons, representing businesses, professional societies, service clubs and individuals from Appleton, Kaukauna, Freedom and Seymour, formed the citizen's committee headed by Gordon Bubolz, former state senator and Appleton insurance executive.

Mentioned as a possible site for the UW extension by Dr. W. M. Hanley, director of the UW extensions, was a section near Valley Fair shopping center. The area is about half a block south of Winnebago County Trunk P. and Highway 47, east of 47, and in Winnebago county. Hanley said it was merely a thought and did not reflect a recommendation.

Asked what sort of site was needed, Hanley estimated that about 10 acres would do to start.

Talking Stage
Actually, the 2-county project is in the talking stage, with special committee study the only action by either county board. However, most of the pressure for some action has developed in the Menasha and Neenah area, since Menasha may lose the UW location.

The extension has been quartered in the Menasha Vocational school, but increasing vocational school student loads forced the extension to rent quarters elsewhere. Neenah, Menasha and Appleton kicked in $4,000 to pay rent and utilities, but all involved term it a stopgap measure.

Study Asked
Kaukauna made the first move, asking consideration of locating the extension at the Outagamie County Teachers college. That college, which grants 2-year teachers' certificates, probably will be out of business shortly, since the state has banned such certificates as of 1960. Enrollment at the college is about 30 to 35.

City Offered 80-Acre Farm As Park Site

An offer of an 80-acre farm for conversion to a city park or golf course was ordered forwarded to the board of public works Tuesday by the park board.

The farm, owned by Walter Long at the southwest corner of Highways 41 and 10, would cost $1,000 an acre, Arthur Jones, park board secretary, said.

The park board has asked the city to buy land for a park in the northwest section of the city. Board members have expressed approval of combining the park with a school and for sewage lift station, if the works board desires.

Ald. Thomas K. Schneider has received backing for a resolution in which he called for construction of a county golf course and the request is being studied by the county board.

Trio Back in Court as Man Denies Beating

An ex-husband, ex-wife and new husband trio who have been familiar figures in police files and court sessions were back in court Tuesday.

Carlton Hauser, 42, 1140 Harrison street, Kaukauna, the ex-husband, was charged with hitting Stanley Gracyalny, 35, route 2, Hortonville, over the head with a bottle and with breaking several hundred dollars worth of liquor at Stan and Millie's tavern just outside Hortonville Saturday.

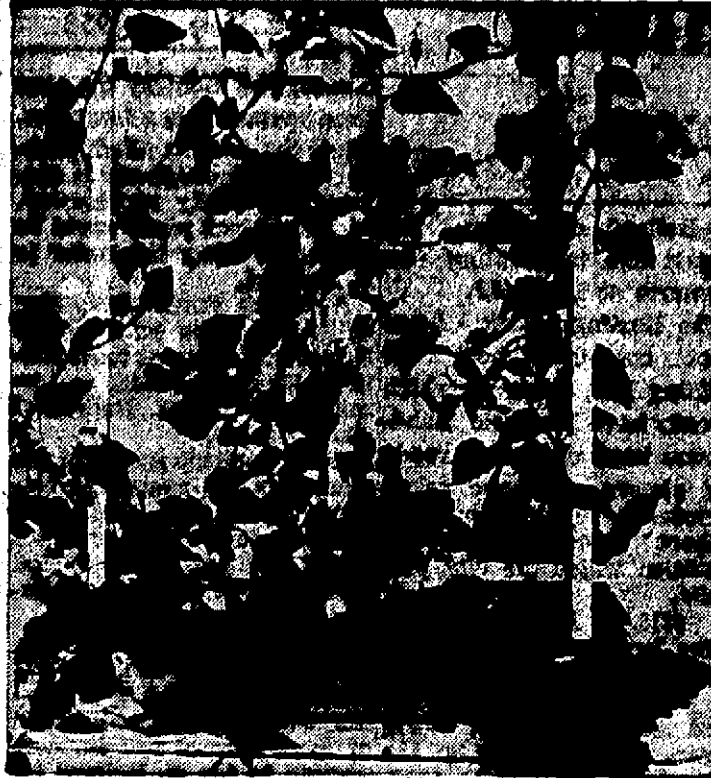

Gracyalny's new husband, and his new wife, Mildred, Hauser's ex-wife, operate the tavern. Hauser said he was just visiting his children. Gracyalny and his new wife are awaiting trial on charges of misconduct before their marriage, brought by Hauser.

Hauser was jailed when he could not furnish $200 cash bond for trial Sept. 3. He was arrested by Hortonville Police Chief Ira Dominowski.

move, calling for study by both Winnebago and Outagamie counties to keep the extension in the Fox Cities area. Present enrollment at the extension is limited to 150 and would double with addition of laboratory facilities, it is estimated. Growth in the next two years would bring probable enrollment to about 200, estimates show.

The Menasha UW extension has been more a collection of classes, with many students lacking second year facilities to continue studies, Hanley said. The university sees a greater potential in the Fox Cities area, for instance, than in Wausau, where a $500,000 building was built, Hanley said.

Appleton Supv. Joseph Cummings, who heads the Outagamie county special committee, pointed out that if the counties combined, it would be the first such venture in the state. Ultimately, it was added, Calumet and Waupaca counties might join in the venture.

Trailing Vines Take Place of Window Curtains in Kitchen

By Katherine B. Walker

I have a real problem window in my kitchen. Early morning sun glares through it onto the breakfast table, and at night when I wash dishes I feel for all the world like a goldfish in a bowl. I tried practically every curtain style and material I could think of, yet nothing looked just right, so I decided to use vines as my curtains, and this solution to my problem has certainly been a happy one.

Starting with a plastic plant box (these are available in narrow widths expressly for window sill use, are waterproof, and come in various lengths, colors), I got an inexpensive trellis from the garden supply store and cut it so that it filled the window opening from planter to the top frame. This allowed me to wedge it securely in place, yet remove it easily if the window-washing notion struck me. Then with a bag of prepared potting soil, one "store-bought" vine, and assorted rooted cuttings from various containers around the house, I was ready to plant.

For over-the-sill trailing, I put in Kangaroo-vine (Cissus antarctica), which shouldn't resent having people brush against it as they sat down at the table. For maximum screening, I put in Grape-ivy (C. rhombifolia), whose trilobed leaves block the view quite well but still permit a great deal of light to come through. For rapid growth to cover the trellis in a hurry, I put in Flame-vine (Senecio confusus), which climbed to the top and back down again while the others were recovering from being transplanted. Then just because this cool, bright exposure seemed so right for it, I added a small snippet of Climbing Foxglove (Maurandia scandens) and in almost no time was rewarded by its lovely purple blossoms peeking through the foliage at me.

Narrow Terrarium
If you have a window or wall or shelves that need something different to make them look just right, try using plants. I have a very long kitchen counter, well cluttered during meal preparations, but plain and bare in between times which I have decorated with a long, narrow terrarium, artificially lighted, and planted with small choice plants. I even painted the lily, or to be more accurate, the African-violets, by adding hermit crabs, chameleons and toads to the terrarium. In addition to being attractive, the terrarium is very helpful to me; my boys seem to find dish-drying less tedious when they can watch the reptilian antics at the same time.

Questions and Answers
I want to kill a lot of small trees on my lot. How can I best do this?

If you had asked how to kill trees in the house, I might have been able to help. For outdoor tree-killing, I suggest you consult your county agricultural agent as to the best method.

I had a vine with heart-shaped leaves that produced clusters of flowers like a wisteria and developed little tubers on the roots like a potato. The flowers were pink. What is the name of it and where can I get another one? Although you mentioned it might belong to the potato family, I can't recall any of the Solanums with pink flowers. Could the flowers have been white, aging to a pinkish color? If so, then it might have been Mignonette or Madagascariensis (Boussingaultia bacheloides), which fits the rest of your description.

I have a tree that was labeled Mimosa when I bought it, but my friend says it is a Formosa tree. Who is right,

Stick in the Mud

Westbrook, Conn. —(U)—Police said a 67-year-old man got waist-high into trouble when he attempted to step from a dock to a boat.

He slipped, they said, and plunged into mud up to his belt. There he stayed for two hours. Passersby finally noticed him and dragged him out.

or are the two names synonymous?

I cannot find any Mimosa with the varietal name Formosa. I even checked Acaia and Albizzia, two close relatives of Mimosa which are sometimes mistaken for it, but had no luck there, either. And so far as I know, there is no Formosa tree. However, the plant called Formosa Ricetree is a Fatsia, so there is a tree with a name similar to the one your friend spoke of, but I doubt that any variety of Fatsia resembles any of the Leguminosae (to which the others belong). I'm not much help in settling your argument, am I?

What is the right name for Madagascar jasmine? Is it a good house plant?

This is properly Stephanotis floribunda, and it is fairly satisfactory in the window garden.

$498,000 Price Tag Put on Local Sewers for Kesting Annexation

Decision Awaits Cost Estimates, Pipe Sizes For Second N. Ballard Road Sanitary Line

It will cost the city at least $498,000 to furnish storm and sanitary sewers to the 160-acre Kesting-Kirk-Laux tract annexed last Sept. 6. Director of Public Works Edwin J. Duszynski has told the street and sanitation committee. He estimated $281,000 for storm sewers, $192,000 for sanitary sewers and $25,000 for inlets and leads. The report, Duszynski pointed out, does not include a cost estimate for another N. Ballard road sanitary interceptor and a crossing of the Fox river at N. Ballard to connect with the sewage treatment plant. Both interceptor and river crossing will be needed, he said, because the present 18-inch sanitary interceptor in N. Ballard surcharges three feet in manholes during heavy rain.

Basement Backup
Because of this, Ald. Roy Pointer, committee chairman, said he would hold out for construction first of the river crossing and second N. Ballard road interceptor. Dumping of extra sewage from the Kesting-Kirk-Laux tract into the present 18-inch sewer is likely to cause sewage to back up in basements of homes now served by the 18-inch pipe, he said. Pointer said he would be

N. Ballard extensions, the largest one terminating on the north at Trunk J.J. The Kesting - Kirk - Laux tract contains about 475 building lots, some of which already have been sold. Landowners have demanded roads and sewers and have asked permission to begin building without these facilities, a condition which the city prohibits.

$114,000 Assessment
The landowners will return about $114,000 of the $352,000 in special assessments for local sanitary sewers. Storm sewers are installed by the city at no expense to landowners.

How to defray cost of the interceptor, and perhaps the river crossing, bothered committee members. It was said the city may have to assess costs against all landowners served by the interceptor. Heretofore, the city has picked up the tab for interceptors.

Storm sewer plans, Duszynski said, call for routing the Pershing street interceptor north on N. Meade street to Highway 41 in a 41-inch pipe. Water then would flow in the south Highway 41 ditch eastward. The ditch rambles north of 41 midway between N. Racine and N. McDonald streets extended and returns to the northeast corner of 41 and N. Ballard.

A pipe will be necessary at the point where the ditch crosses the highway the first time because it is a low point. When the ditch is filled, probably when the highway is converted to a city expressway, 54- and 60-inch pipes would be needed to carry the water to N. Ballard.

A 42-inch storm sewer also will have to be extended on N. Alexander street to N. Ballard, Duszynski said, to terminate at the N. Ballard-41 vision corner.

Local sanitary mains in the tract can be routed in two ways, Duszynski said. One puts the interceptor two feet under the present 18-inch main, the other four feet under the present main.

The one which would be two feet under the main would permit some building to start immediately upon completion of local sewers and its connection to the N. Ballard facilities, the condition which drew Pointer's objection.

Coroner Checked 7 Deaths Last Month

Outagamie County Coroner Bernard H. Kemps investigated seven deaths and issued the first cremation permit since last November during July, his report shows.

Kemps reported one traffic death (a 6-year-old boy struck by a car on Highway 41 July 29) compared to none during July last year. The county's traffic toll so far this year is six, three less than the nine at this time in 1957.

Kemps also investigated three cases in which persons took their own lives, one drowning and two deaths from natural causes.

Prohibit Through Truck Traffic on Some Menasha Roads

Area Included Is East of Highway 47;
North of Third Street; City Given Money

Menasha — Through trucking traffic on all streets east of Appleton road and DePere street and north of Old Plank road was prohibited by the city council Tuesday night.

Ald. Edward Stinski made the motion to prohibit through trucking and it was seconded by Ald. Walter Pawlowski. Included in the motion was that "No Through Truck" signs be erected on all streets entering the area.

Pawlowski pointed out a lot of truckers had been cutting through the area in which a number of new homes are being built. He said those building the homes will still be able to use the streets.

Third ward Ald. John Klein stated the issue had been discussed with the city engineer and police, fire, traffic and safety committee and they were in accord. He said the area included is east of Highway 47 and north of Third street.

Money Returned
The council also accepted $9,079 in unused funds from the Menasha-Neenah sewage commission. An equal amount of money will be returned to the city of Neenah, also.

Authorization was given to the board of education to transfer $2,000 from its Nicolet school expansion fund to the Butte des Morts maintenance account. The money will be returned to the city of Neenah, also.

Five policemen will have their expenses paid by the city when they attend the state pistol shoot at LaCrosse on Aug. 25.

City Atty. William R. Giese was instructed to draw up an ordinance prohibiting the use of bow and arrow, BB guns and sling shots within city limits.

Sixty-six feet of storm sewer laterals will be put in at the corner of Broad and Appleton streets. Four catch basins also will be removed from the sanitary sewer.

As a Convenience to Boaters who wish to use facilities at Jefferson park in Menasha, the park board is installing 3 docks for public use. Park department employees R. A. Maze of Regatta Boats Makes Chaotic Scene

Neenah — Regatta spectators may experience utter confusion when the maze of boats, actually each very determined, appear more like a pack of aimless ants rushing to and from a hundred different directions than the one purpose crafts they are. Each boat is sailing to win. To onlookers, they may appear to be doing it the hard way.

Over 170 scows in four classes are expected to compete in the annual Inland Lakes Yachting association regatta to be held Aug. 18 to 22 in Neenah. Two triangular courses will be set on the lake. Class C and D boats will race in the morning and class A and E scows will take to the lake in the afternoon.

The start of the race might well be a point of mayhem for the interested spectator. He may be thoroughly bewildered by the periodic booming of guns and raising and lowering of flags which are all very significant to the sailor.

The first nautical fireworks heard are three guns fired at about 15 second intervals. This is the assembly signal for the boats. At the moment the last of the three shots is fired, the assembly flag is hoisted.

Exactly four and a half minutes following the raising of the assembly flag, another gun sounds, warning the sailors that in a half a minute, or five minutes from the last assembly gun, the preparatory gun will sound, indicating that the class of boats designated to cross the starting line first have five minutes until their starting blast of one gun.

A flag called the preparatory signal is hoisted contemporaneously with the last of

List 'Old-Timer' Club For Menasha Mac Tilt

Annual Contest On Docket Sunday; Plan 3 Practices

Menasha — The squad of "recent old-timers," which will meet the Menasha Macs next Sunday afternoon, was announced today by Tom Schipferling, who will serve as manager for the club.

The roster includes players who were on recent Menasha Mac and Falcon teams. Pitchers include Bill Ciske and Marv "Sambo" Winarski, who was manager of the Falcons two years ago.

The probable starting lineup and batting order includes Bill Wood, first baseman; Junior Ropella, catcher; Neil Haack, third baseman; Jim Haack, shortstop; Jim Leopold, second baseman; Bill Schipferling, leftfielder; Bob Winarski, centerfielder; and Erwin Winarski, rightfielder, followed by the pitcher.

In addition to managing the club, Schipferling will also be available for pinch hitting duty.

Ropella and Wood played with the Mac club last year and the Haack brothers saw action in a couple of games during the early part of this season.

Schipferling has carded practices for his club tonight, Thursday evening and Saturday at the Menasha ball park.

The Macs drew an open date Sunday because Little Chute-Kimberly, its scheduled foe, will be competing in the state tournament at Milwaukee this weekend.

The annual "old-timers" game is usually played early in September but at that time this year the Macs probably will be involved in the league playoff. They won the first round title with a 9-1 record but are only 2-2 in second half action.

Mixed Tourney
Neenah — The annual Neenah mixed doubles tennis tournament will be played at 4:30 Thursday afternoon at the Neenah High school courts. It will be the final tournament of 19 conducted in the summer recreation tennis program.

Fran Goetz and Bill Braun limited the losers to two hits. The Dodgers made seven off Mitch Miller, Mory Handler and Don Althaus, including three by Gordon Gill. Two of his hits were doubles. The winners clicked off three double plays.

The Spartans dumped the Gophers 11-2 in a Grade Baseball league test. The Spartans have a 9-2 record and the Gophers 3-8. The former must beat the Hawkeyes Thursday to win the championship.

Doug Angell held the losers to four hits, including two by Ricky Zwickey. The Spartans made six off Gene Loughrin, Mike Boyd and Cliff Pierto each had two.

Mike Boyd hit a triple and Duane Boyd had a double. Wards 2 and 6 won over Wards 3 and 5 on a forfeit in a scheduled Midget Softball league fray.

Last night's scheduled test at Kimberly was postponed because of a conflict in the use of the field there and will be played at 5:30 next Wednesday afternoon. That will leave only the Fond du Lac game left on the Menasha schedule. No date has been set for its makeup, because Foody will be participating in the state tournament at Rhinelander this weekend.

the two preparatory gun shots. The assembly flag is lowered. At this point, five minutes remain until the first start. After the first class of boats starts at the final gun, there is a five minute interval until the next class of boats begins.

Continuous Procedure

This procedure is continued until all classes have started. To add to the chaos for a spectator who is unfamiliar with the sailing routine, another flag is hoisted on the judges boat which indicates the course to be followed by all boats.

A green flag means that the boats will sail a starboard triangle, taking the buoys on the starboard side. A port course is indicated with a red flag.

A windward-leeward course having one long down-wind leg and the other to windward is shown by a green and red flag, the topmost color indicating the side on which the buoy are to be taken.

A dark blue flag with a white cross from corner to corner is used as a signal for changes and the finish flag is a white pennant with a red "P" in the center.

Mark Finish Line

The finish line is established between the judges boat and a buoy. The winning boat in each class is given one gun as she crosses the invisible "line."

Additional instructions concerning the number of times that a boat must sail the course and the location of the finish is given to the skippers through a loud speaker on the judges boat prior to the start.

At the time of the start the line may resemble a bee hive around which angry bees are fighting to enter first. Spectators aren't the only one's who feel slightly baffled. The skipper of each boat is faced with the problem of deciding where the most desirable position will be when the starting gun sounds, and where he will be able to gain advantages over other competitors.

The difficulty of this decision is increased by the proximity of several other boats all bearing down from different directions. A consolation perhaps, is that everyone's figuratively "in the same boat."

Turley Wins No. 17 By Stopping Orioles

Defeat Is Baltimore's Ninth Straight; Nats' Pascual Falls

By The Associated Press
You have to hand it to that fellow Bob Turley. When he starts something he finishes it. The New York Yankee ace, top winner in the majors with his 17-4 record, has completed 16 of 22 starts.

If Baltimore never sees Turley again it will be much too soon. The Orioles have scored only one run against their former teammate in 36 innings.

Turley's latest effort was a 7-hitter against the Orioles Tuesday night for a 4-1 victory.

Mickey Mantle slammed his thirtieth home run off loser Connie Johnson with two men on in the third. The blow tied him with Boston's Jackie Jensen for the American league homer lead.

Tigers Lose

The feeble Orioles suffered their ninth straight defeat, tying the Detroit Tigers for the longest losing streak of the year. The Tigers, now improved, had a 6-game winning string snapped by Cleveland, 6-1, when Cal McLish pitched the Indians into fourth place. He scattered seven hits to make his record 11-6.

Billy Monbouquette, a 21-year-old rookie from Medford, Mass., beat Washington, 7-1, for his first major league victory for Boston. Ted Williams playfully eluded a fan in the outfield until the police caught up with the intruder in the seventh. Jimmy Piersall's 3-run homer was the big blow off loser Camilo Pascual.

Chicago jumped on loser Bob Grim for five runs in the third inning and hung on for a 5-4 edge over Kansas City with some neat relief work by Turk Lown.

Good Shot

With 49 games to play in almost eight weeks, Turley appears to have a good shot at a 25-win season for the Yanks. His best record was 17-13, in 1955. A walk, Gene Woodling's single and an infield out produced the Oriole run in the first.

Cleveland scored all its runs off George Susce in the first three innings. Two came on Mickel Vernon's homer. Charlie Maxwell led off the Detroit fifth with a homer for the lone run off McLish.

Monbouquette, brought up from the Minneapolis farm about four weeks ago, finally got some solid hitting and steady defense from the Red Sox. Among the batting feats was an acrobatic double by Don Buddin, who eluded a tag at second and then performed a swan dive from the shortstop side of the bag.

Lown put down a Kansas City uprising in the fifth and blanked the A's the rest of the way to earn the victory.

Police Captures Division Title In Minor Loop

The Police department shaded Pond's 2-1, to capture the Minor Boys' American division championship in a play-off game Monday. The Police was to meet Sherry Motors, champion in the National division, for the Minor Boys' baseball league championship today.

Tom Gregorius and Jim Griesbach combined to pitch a 1-hitter for Police. Losing pitcher Paul Zeegers also allowed only one hit.

Verrier-Schmitt won the Cub Boys' league American division title by stopping Grishaber's, 5-0, behind Rich Moen's no-hit pitching Monday at Interlake. Don Hayes and Tom Jooss paced Verrier-Schmitt with two hits apiece.

Verrier-Schmitt was to meet SSAC, 3-1 division champion, at 9 o'clock this morning at Interlake. National division champion Valley Ready Mix will play Association t-dist Elm Tree at the same time at Franklin. The winners of the two games will meet at 9 o'clock Friday morning at Interlake for the Cub Boys' league championship.

The champions will then play the league All-Stars at Interlake at 6:30 the evening of Aug. 17.

Coleman Cops Steeplechase In Budapest

Glenn Davis and Earlene Brown are Other U. S. Victors

Budapest — (U)—Horace Ashenfelter first taught Americans all steeplechasers aren't horses. Phil Coleman has taken it from there.

Coleman is a 27-year-old teacher from Champaign, Ill., who won the 3,000-meter steeplechase Tuesday against a group of very good Hungarians and Czechoslovakians in a track and field meet which ends tonight.

The victory was the most significant for an American distance runner since Ashenfelter looked over his shoulder during the 1952 Olympic steeplechase at Helsinki, saw a Russian closing in and then beat the Soviet runner in the Russians' favorite event.

Until that unexpected victory many Americans thought steeplechasing was done only by horses at such race tracks as Belmont park and Aintree, England.

Time is 8:43.4
Coleman's time over the water jump and heavy hurdles Tuesday was 8:43.4. In Warsaw last week he set an American record of 8:40.8. And in Moscow 10 days ago during the first meet of the American tour he ran the distance in 8:47.

Top American victories Tuesday were turned in by Glenn Davis of Columbus, Ohio, in the 400 meters with a 48.6 clocking and Earlene Brown, the muscular Los Angeles housewife. Mrs. Brown won the discus' throw with a toss of 256 feet, 7.89 inches. She defeated Olympic champion Olga Fikatovala, now the wife of an American Olympic hammer throwing champion Harold Connolly of Boston.

Trader 'Buddy' Parker Seems Satisfied With Steelers So Far

California, Pa. — (U)—"Buddy" Parker, a National Football league coach who ranks with baseball's Frank Lane as a trader, appears satisfied with his Pittsburgh Steelers — at least for today.

"I'm very pleased with our progress so far," said the big Texan at the Steeler's training camp in this southwestern Pennsylvania town.

"Besides," he added with a chuckle, "We don't have many draft picks left."

Head-spinning deals
Parker, of course, was referring to the head-spinning number of trades he made, mostly with future draft choices, when he took over the head coaching job in the middle of the training season last year.

Most of his moves paid off notable trades for Earl Morrall and Billy Wells. Morrall became the No. 1 quarterback and Wells the top ground-gainer.

This year Parker gave an undisclosed draft choice for "Tank" Younger, a 30-year-old veteran of nine seasons with the Los Angeles Rams.

Younger may fill the club's need for an experienced fullback, but Parker is also high on rookies Larry Krukko of West Virginia and Ed Sears of Florida.

Washington State President Believes PCC Is Finished

Pullman, Wash. — (U)—The 43-year-old Pacific Coast conference still has an official lease on life, but members are taking turns posting its death notice.

Dr. C. Clement French, president of Washington State college, said Tuesday WSC believes the conference is finished and will support any recommendation to dissolve it.

California, Washington, UCLA and USC have set dates for leaving the conference. Stanford suggested dissolution last Friday and there were reports Oregon and Oregon State would support the move.

Thiel, Locklin Make Brief Appearances for Minneapolis Millers

Marion's Bert Thiel and Appleton's "Stu" Locklin made only brief appearances last week for Minneapolis of the Class AAA American association.

Thiel pitched just three innings, allowing three hits, and two runs, both earned as Minneapolis lost to Indianapolis, 8-2. He did not take the loss.

Thiel remains ninth in the league in ERA with a mark of 3.32. He has appeared in 111 innings in 22 games and has a 6-6 record.

Locklin went hitless in five trips for the Millers.

Bob Hendley Fires 4-Hitter; Bees Trip Winona, 13-10

By The Associated Press
Cedar Rapids and Green Bay are rapidly closing in on Davenport's season-long supremacy in the Three-I league as well as waging a spirited fight for the second-half title.

The top two teams both won again Tuesday night with sharp pitching jobs. Bob Hendley's 4-hitter guided Cedar Rapids over Davenport, 5-2, and Green Bay's Bob Sedlak set Fox Cities, 7-2.

The big blow for Cedar Rapids was an eighth-inning, 3-run homer by Bill Moss.

Akers Homers

Burlington rallied for a 13-10 triumph over Winona after Lane Akers had given the Athletics a big first-inning lead with a bases-loaded homer. Dave Hanrahan's 2-run double tied it for the Bees in the eighth and they added three more in the ninth.

Cedar Rapids continues to hold a 1½ game lead over Green Bay in second-half standings.

But the season's overall records are important also, since the league prize money will be distributed on that basis. With a month to go, the combined first- and second-half records are:

Davenport 56-38, Cedar Rapids 52-42, Green Bay 52-43, Burlington 47-46, Rochester-Winona 39-58 and Fox Cities 38-57.

The Wisconsin girl was matched in today's quarterfinals against Louis Dumler of Cincinnati, who defeated Marcia Hamilton of Oakland City, Ind., 1 up.

5 Cent Wage Hike Approved At Thilmany

7th Paid Holiday Is Agreed Upon Under Contract

Kaukauna — A 5 cent per hour wage increase and a seventh paid holiday were approved in the new contract signed by Thilmany Pulp and Paper company officials and union representatives.

The Kaukauna firm completed negotiations with representatives of Local No. 20 of the United Paper Makers and Paper Workers and Local No. 147 of the International Brotherhood of Pulp, Sulphite and Paper Mill workers and their international representatives.

The labor agreement is for a 1-year period ending July 31, 1959, and applies to about 1,200 hourly paid employees.

The general wage increase of 5 cents went into effect Monday. The seventh paid holiday approved is Dec. 24.

Under the new terms the base rate of pay for women is now set at $1.61 while the base rate for men is $1.85 per hour.

Headquarters of NATO Will Be Ready in a Year

Paris — NATO's new headquarters should be ready for occupancy by the 15 western allies about a year from now.

The building is going up on land given by the French government at the Porte Dauphine, just on the edge of the Bois de Boulogne. Since its formation, the North Atlantic Treaty Organization has been occupying a temporary building set up for the 1948 United Nations assembly, just across the Seine from the Eiffel tower. This will be torn down when NATO moves out.

Work on the steel framework of the new headquarters was finished in eight months. The stone work, begun last December, should be finished by the end of the year.

Most NATO members are contributing something to the building. The United States is supplying centrally heated ceilings. France will furnish the office of Secretary Gen. Paul-Henri Spaak.

The building will contain a council hall accommodating 1,500 persons. A sixth-floor bar, cafeteria and restaurant will have wide views over the Boulogne park in one direction and the Arch of Triumph in the other.

Two basements will have parking space for 500 cars.

Better Brothers Hold 1st Place In FVGC League

Kaukauna — Better Brothers Garage holds first place in the Fox Valley Golf club twilight league as action moves into the 11th round Thursday evening.

The leaders have been in the top spot since the third week of competition and have been upended only once. They hold a 23-point spread over second place Geenen Shopping Center.

Qüella Foods are in the thick of the battle for second place as they trail Geenen's by only two points while Look Drugs are six points off the pace.

Awards will be made for blind bogey winners and there will be an evening meal served at the clubhouse.

Expect 4,000 New Students At University

Freshman Class Likely to Set Attendance Record

Post-Crescent Madison Bureau

Madison — They're getting ready to provide a warm welcome for more than 4,000 young men and women who will enroll at the University of Wisconsin for the first time next month.

The new freshman class will be a large one, estimated at about 2,700, including several hundreds from the Fox Cities and vicinity. Another 1,300 will be "freshmen" to Madison, as students transferring from other colleges and universities with advanced standing.

Recognizing that the physical size and curricular scope of the university are sometimes distressing to young people arriving in Madison as strangers, the university has historically taken pains to provide a careful orientation for new students. A new student program committee, directed by older students, is already in action to assure a friendly handling of the new students early in September.

Small Groups

Registration of students for classes starts Sept. 10. The new student orientation program extends from Sept. 9 to 13.

On the first day in Madison each new student will be greeted by his student group leader and the 10 to 15 members of his own group. Students will meet university officials, heads of their colleges and departments, and their individual faculty advisers.

Margaret Kneer, Appleton, is a member of the new student program committee.

The new class, according to registration figures, will again break a record. The 2,583 freshmen registered last year established a record up to that time. Total enrollment on the Madison campus will probably reach 16,450 this fall.

About 5,000 other students will study at the Milwaukee branch of the university and there will be more than 1,500 at the eight extension centers throughout the state.

Critics Laud Cliburn In Hollywood Concert

BY BOB THOMAS
AP Motion Picture Writer

Hollywood — Van Cliburn has come and conquered Hollywood, just as he did the Soviet Union.

Last week the youthful Texas pianist played an unprecedented two successive performances at the Hollywood Bowl. The concerts drew a total of 38,000 customers, and Van was paid $10,000 for each performance.

The critics were swayed, too. They raved for Cliburn's rendition of Tchaikovsky's concerto, which he played in winning the Russian contest. But they were unrestrained in the enthusiasm for his Rachmaninoff D Minor concerto the second night.

Commented Albert Goldberg of the Los Angeles Times: "... a magnificent performance of what is probably the most difficult of all concertos."

Before departing for a New York concert at Lewisohn stadium, Van paused to reflect on his meteoric career. Does he feel the danger of becoming a flash personality?

"Very definitely," he replied. "There are flash personalities in any line of endeavor, and I've got to see that it doesn't happen to me."

Off the Treadmill

"For that reason, I have tried to cancel everything for the next two months. I've got to get off the treadmill that I've been on, exciting though it has been, and devote some thought to my future."

"You can't keep driving all the time. As somebody said, you need some time to twiddle your thumbs and gather your forces. I plan to devote at least seven days to nothing but twiddling my thumbs."

Though he was proud of his bowl fee, Van said he wasn't overly interested in money.

"That's not what I'm after," he said. "There are so many things more important than money. Money is actually the easiest thing to achieve. You've got to plan for the future. You can't put juice back in a squeezed lemon."

Likes California

The pianist declared his affection for California on his first visit here, but added that his future dates preclude returning for a year and a half. Next year he expects to spend up to three months touring Russia, including Siberia, and two months on a tour that may take him to Portugal, Yugoslavia, Poland, Bulgaria and Rumania.

During his brief Hollywood visit, Cliburn saw a few of the sights. He was a guest at the home of Cecil B. DeMille, and was urged by the director to see his studio, Paramount.

The pianist did so and met actor Earl Holliman, who said he once lived in Cliburn's home town, Kilgore, Texas.

What about his own possibilities as a film star?

"I have received several flattering offers," he said, "but I have no illusions about myself as an actor. However, I think that a serious musician can have just as good qualifications as an actor for evoking emotions and creating entertainment in any medium, including the screen."

British Consul Gets Anonymous Red Roses For Victory in 1759

Kansas City — For seven straight years, the British consul in Kansas City has received on Aug. 1 seven red roses in honor of an English victory in the Seven Years war.

The donor is anonymous. Consul A. J. Evans, who told of the mystery Monday, said he and his staff know only that the donor is a man who lives in this area.

Identical cards were attached to each of the bouquets. They carried the notation "Minden Day, Aug. 1, 1759" and listed the British regiments which defeated a French army at Minden, Germany, on that date.

The battle at Minden was part of the war of 1756-1763 in which England and Prussia fought Austria, France, Russia, Sweden and Saxony.

Purse Snatcher Throws Away $26,000 in Bag

Wilmington, Calif. — A teenager snatched a woman's purse and fled yesterday. In the purse was $26,000.

But, said police, the youth removed a wallet, then dropped the purse. The money wasn't in the wallet—it was stuffed in several envelopes.

Mrs. Anastasia Krouses, 38, a Greek national living in "The Dock Brief" and "What Long Beach, told officers: "I've been carrying that money around with me for more than a year. In Greece on Broadway in 1949 in the Ter-everybody carries money with them."

Police said the cash included 14 $1,000 bills.

More Warner Brothers ABC-TV Ready With New Friday Program

BY JINGO
ABC-TV will move "77 Sunset Strip" into the 9:30 to 10:30 Friday night time slot starting Oct. 3.

The new show, a modern melodrama played against an international background of mystery and intrigue, is being produced in Hollywood by Warner Brothers.

It will be an hour long and star E. F. Zumbal, Jr., Roger Smith and Edward Byrnes, three who-hes.

The series gives Warner Brothers a total of four hours a week on TV. Other shows are "Cheyenne," already in production with a new star, Ty Hardin, "Sugarfoot," "Maverick," "Colt 45" and "Lawman," a new half-hour Sunday night series.

Janette Davis has left the employ of Arthur Godfrey after 12 years to retire to private life as wife of Frank Musiello, producer of ABC-TV's Peter Lind Hayes-Mary Healy show.

Godfrey, who has abruptly dismissed long-time associates in the past, said "Jan has my unending thanks for a job well done." She evidently left in good graces.

Jingo's Jewels: Art Carney and the "Show of the Month" have reached an agreement for him to star in "Harvey" on Sept. 22 over CBS-TV, the kickoff program for next season's series. Other shows include "Hamlet," all the way from Old Vic's in London, "The Count of Monte Cristo," "Victory," "What Every Woman Knows" and "The Little World of Don Camillo."

A special program about Abraham Lincoln is being prepared by NBC for televising next year. The network is taping photographs, prints, woodcuts, engraving and other views of the president for a program to commemorate the 150th anniversary of his birth.

The movie "The Fly" has closed a run at the Buggs theater in Chicago. A color series starring Keith Larsen and set in the French and Indian war period, will take over the NBC-TV Friday night spot now held by "Life of Riley," starting Sept. 26. It's one in a trend of U. S. history things that are coming. Others are "MacKenzie's Raiders," about the cavalry officer who stirred trouble by crossing into Mexico during the 1870s to clean up the southwest; "Silent Saber," based on George Washington's spy chief, Maj. Benjamin Tallmadge; "Derringer," New Orleans policeman on Mississippi riverboats; "Rough Riders," about Teddy Roosevelt; and "The Virginian," based on Owen Wister's novel about an ex-Rebel soldier.

John Daly, an ABC veeper and moderator of CBS-TV's "What's My Line?" will narrate "The Voice of Firestone" when it resumes on ABC-TV Monday, Sept. 8. Capt. Michael O'Rourke, army man who won $108,000 on "Tic Tac Dough," told a Tuesday night Mutual radio audience why he's staying in the army. The typical TV station grossed $925,000 last year and had expenses of $780,000, the National Association of Broadcasters says. A typical radio station grossed $99,700, spent $90,600. Frank Sinatra won't be back on TV in the fall. Seems impossible, but he flopped.

Johnny Ray Misses — Doesn't Know Name Of Youngster's Maid

Dallas — A little girl, about 8, approached singer Johnny Ray as he sunned beside a swimming pool. She wanted his autograph. While he was writing, she asked importantly: "Do you know Elma Johnson?" Ray confessed later it sounded like someone he should recall, and he relayed the query to several fellow members here in the cast of "Guys and Dolls."

"No," he admitted finally. "Who is she?"

"That's our maid," piped the youngster. "She knows all the Hollywood stars."

Count of Non-Farm Rural Residents in State on Increase

Growth of Part-Time Farmers Causes Population Problems

BY JAY JOSLYN
Post-Crescent Farm Editor

City people are moving onto farm lands and farmers are taking jobs in the city, surveys being carried on by the University of Wisconsin show.

The interchange of people and interests portends dramatic changes in rural living. In many parts of the state this mingling of ways of life has forced reappraisals along political, cultural and health lines.

Douglas Marshall, University of Wisconsin sociologist told the Wisconsin Agricultural Writers association non-farm rural dwellers have passed farm rural dwellers in numbers.

Douglas M. Jones, statistician for the state department of agriculture, in a department bulletin, "Wisconsin Farmers and Their Non-Farm Jobs," discusses the growing number of part-time farmers in the state.

35 Year Growth
The growth of non-farm rural dwellers can be seen in the comparison of 1920 and 1955 state population figures.

During that period the state's population increased by 40 per cent, the urban population grew by 67 per cent, and the rural population by 16 per cent.

However, the non-farm rural dwellers increased by 100 per cent while the farm rural dwellers decreased by 27 per cent.

This growth of non-farm rural population has accelerated in the last few years. From 1950 to 1955, the state population grew by 7 1/2 per cent. The urban population increased 9 per cent while the non-farm rural population grew by 17 per cent and the farm rural population decreased by 7 1/2 per cent.

Marshall told the WAWA statisticians cannot keep up with the changes.

Pass Urban Population
The trend, he said, appears to point at the strong possibility that the non-farm rural population will soon outstrip the urban population.

As of 1955, the state population stood at 3,700,000. There were 2,081,000 living in urban areas and 1,610,000 in rural areas.

The non-farm rural dwellers, however, were nearly 50 per cent greater than the farm rural dwellers with 672,000 living on farms and 838,000 living in the country but not pursuing agriculture.

Part-Time Farmers
Jones' bulletin, also using 1955 figures, reports 23.7 per cent of the farm population working part-time off the farm, with a promise that this percentage would increase. He indicates there will not be a decrease in the percentage.

The southeastern part of the state is the most affected by both the non-farm invasion of the rural area and the incidence of off-farm part-time work.

Two factors appear to be responsible for the growth of part-time off-farm employment.

According to the location of the concentration of the practice, one reason is the inability of the land to support the farmer. Another is the opportunity presented by industry for farmers to supplement their incomes with good paying industrial jobs.

Industrial concentration contributes to the increase of the non-farm rural population as the poor farm area does to the decrease of the farm population.

City dwellers attempt to flee the confines of crowded urban living to the prospects of freer living in suburban areas while the lack of industrial opportunity to supplement incomes in the poorer farm areas is forcing younger farm people to move to urban areas.

The University of Wisconsin is making a 5-year study of last year's high school graduates in five counties. Marshall told the WAWA early reports from Price county, not a top-ranking agricultural area and one with little industry, reveal that more than 80 per cent of the high school graduates are leaving the county and a large proportion of those staying in the county has indicated a desire to leave if there is an opportunity to do so.

Marshall said the growth of the suburbanite satellites around industrial communities is forcing a dual role on the residents, both farm and non-farm, and is creating tensions at every point of contact.

He said there is a great need for study to ease present conflicts and avoid future problems.

1959 Soil Programs Will Start Soon

Outagamie county farmers will have an opportunity to sign up for the 1959 soil bank conservation reserve program within a few weeks, Bert Wey-berg, county ASC chairman, said today.

Under the program farmers contract with the U.S. Department of Agriculture to reduce their crop acreage for periods of up to 10 years and devote the unused acreage to conservation practices. In return the government makes an annual rental payment to the farmer based on the land's productivity.

Three major changes in the program this year are:

- A higher average level of rental payments with the individual rate depending on productivity, agricultural value and rental rates for similar land in the locality.
- Higher payment rate as an incentive to place all eligible land in reserve.
- Priority system for accepting contract applications.

Farmers offering land at the lowest rate will receive preference.

been asked to form a study group to investigate this nationwide dislocation of populations and ways of life. It would be similar to the rural life commission appointed by President Theodore Roosevelt 50 years ago.

Many of the recommendations and agencies that came out of the Roosevelt commission are still functioning and directing rural life under conditions far removed from those under which they were instituted.

Good Report Found in 14th Ring Testing

Fox Cities Area Herds' Average Below State Level

Herds in the Fox Cities area averaged well below the state average of positive samples in the state, according to final statistics of the 14th round of Brucellosis ring testing.

The average positive samples of the 7,499 herds tested in the 4-county area was 2.4 per cent. The average percentage in the state was 3 per cent.

The lowest percentage of positive samples was in Winnebago county where 1,511 herds were tested and 30 proved to have positive samples or 1.9 per cent of the herds.

A percentage of 2.4 per cent was found in the 1,473 herds tested in Calumet county where positive samples were found in 36 herds.

Waupaca county had 2.9 per cent positive samples or 63 herds out of 2,125 herds tested.

Outagamie county had the highest number of herds tested, 2,388. Positive samples were found in 84 for 3.5 per cent, slightly above the state average.

Two counties in the state, Vilas and Oneida, had no positive samples and Florence and Iron each had one; but these counties had few herds tested.

Federal Aid Helps Camper Milk Drinking

Subsidy Assists Non-Profit Summer Resort Diet Program

Nearly 16,000 youngsters in 140 non-profit summer camps in Wisconsin are drinking more milk this summer because the U.S. department of agriculture is paying part of the cost, the Midwest food distribution office of U.S.D.A. announced today.

The government reimburses the camp 2 cents for each half-pint of milk consumed; 3 cents if the children are charged for their milk, and if the price to the children is reduced.

Under the special milk program, which was started in 1954, the department of agriculture is authorized by congress to spend up to $75 million a year to increase consumption of milk by children in schools, camps and child-care institutions. The money comes from funds designated for supporting milk prices to farmers through the purchase of butter, cheese and non-fat dry milk solids.

During the 12 months ending June 30, 1958, children drank approximately 2 billion half-pints of milk, with part of the cost paid by the department of agriculture.

Milk consumption in the camps is increased in many different ways, such as permitting children to have as much milk as they want at meals, making milk available at any hour or at morning and afternoon rest periods, or by serving milk at all meals.

Landrace Hog Popular In Fox Cities Area

New Londoners Introduced Danish Breed To Neighborhood, Backed Its Spread

BY DAVE APKER
 Post-Crescent Staff Writer

New London — Pioneer work done by a New London couple introducing Landrace pigs to the area, four years ago has made the breed a favorite among local farmers.

Mr. and Mrs. Fred Bernegger, owners of a meat packing plant and stockyard here, travelled to Indiana in 1955 to get about a dozen of the animals to be sold and loaned to farmers for breeding purposes. Since then the Landrace's popularity has mushroomed.

"Some 75 per cent of all the pigs brought to our plant are crosses with Landrace's," Mrs. Bernegger reports.

"The percentage averages out to about 320 pigs per week," she said.

Figures collected by the New London couple answer the secret of this porker's success. The animal averages 240 pounds live weight, compared to 245 for other pigs, but a dressed Landrace tips the scales at an average of 182 pounds, compared to 172 pounds for others.

More Loin, Ham The Landrace has 29 per cent more loin, 27 per cent more ham and 28 per cent less lard than other swine, Mrs. Bernegger stated.

The Berneggers report that the Landrace, brought to the United States from Denmark in 1934, grows fast and is ready for market in five months, compared to six months for other breeds. Their records show that the animal markets at about $2.00 per 100 pounds than its competitors.

A purebred Landrace, being raised by the Berneggers, produced an 8-pig litter early in July. At 4 weeks old the litter had an average weight of 22 pounds apiece.

Mrs. Bernegger said a meat-type animal affords the consumer a better buy than the lard-type. It is said that the Landrace that its 'sausage must have fat added to it in the frying pan when cooked. Very little shrinkage is experienced with Landrace cuts.

The Landrace genes appear to be dominate in crosses so that the breed's meat - type proclivity is passed on to the offspring and is carried on to other generations. Duroc is most commonly used for the cross in the New London area.

The County Agent Says

Q. What return is possible from top dressing alfalfa stands now?

A. The cost of fertilizer used to apply 200 to 300 pounds per acre of 0-10-30 will be returned three or four times in added hay yield. Research plots throughout the state have shown that alfalfa responds rapidly to potash. The practice of annually top dressing alfalfa after the first crop of hay is removed should increase the profit per acre by $30 to $50.

Q. Should strawberries be fertilized now?

A. Strawberries set their buds from Aug. 15 until frost. The yield of next year's crop is determined by the amount and quality of buds that are set. Therefore, it is recommended to top dress before Aug. 15. Use ammonium nitrate or 10-10-10 at the rate of 100 pounds per acre. There is approximately 10,000 feet of row per acre if the rows are four feet apart.

Q. Is it safe to process foods in the oven?

A. No. Oven canning is dangerous. Jars may seal during processing and explode which might prove to be very dangerous. The temperature of the food in the jars during oven processing does not get high enough to insure destruction of spoilage bacteria in vegetables without exceedingly long processes.

Is there any danger from silo gases?

In recent years, illness and sometimes death have been caused by nitrogen dioxide, a gas present during silo filling time. It is brownish yellow in appearance and smells like chlorine. This gas seems to be more prevalent during dry growing conditions. It generally appears within a day or two after filling the silo. The best control is proper ventilation. During the filling period, let the blower run before entering the silo.

'Hoppers Invade Waupaca County, Spraying Urged

Waupaca — Grasshopper infestation in Waupaca county has reached the stage where spraying for control is advised, Orin Warnke, USDA entomologist, reports.

The department recommends spraying when the 'hoppers number seven per square yard. Etymologist Warnke informed County Agent Joe Walker the average number per acre in Waupaca county has reached 20 to 30 'hoppers.

The spray recommended is heptachlor. Care is advised

Apple Growers Threatened by Maggot Hatch

Wisconsin apple growers face a serious threat to their crop. Jack Wright, University of Wisconsin entomologist, says the apple maggot is going to be much more of a problem than usual this year. Wright says traps are picking up great numbers of apple maggot flies right now.

He warns that the apple maggot could do a great deal of damage to Wisconsin orchards if these flies are allowed to lay their eggs. The apple maggot fly usually waits about 10 days to two weeks after hatching before she lays her eggs. Wright points out that the eggs are laid under skin of the apple, so the only control is to kill the flies.

Wright urges apple growers to begin spraying their trees immediately to kill these apple maggot flies before they lay their eggs. Wright recommends a lead arsenate spray, put on at intervals of 10 days. Three sprays is the maximum.

Street Work Ordered for New School

Education Board's Request to Improve Huntley Block OK'd

Street improvements at Huntley school, under construction in the city's northeast corner, Monday, were ordered for this year and next by the street and sanitation committee.

Sewer and water mains will be installed on streets surrounding the school this year, with grading, graveling, curb and gutter scheduled next year.

The work was requested by E. V. Krueger, school board president.

Wisconsin Telephone company was authorized to re-route an underground cable from Midway street, scene of H. C. Prange company store construction, to the south side of Washington street between N. Appleton and N. Durkee streets. The cable will be in the street, just in front of the curb.

Gas Mains
Wisconsin Michigan Power company was authorized to install gas mains on S. Telulah avenue for 140 feet south of E. Newberry street, E. Gunn street from S. Walter avenue to S. Telulah, S. Telulah from E. Gunn to E. Harriet street, N. Division street between W. Pershing and W. Lindbergh streets, W. Pershing from N. Division street east, at the corner of W. Charles street and S. Driscoll street and W. Prospect avenue between Hillcrest drive and Carver lane.

Discontinuing of E. Henry and E. Esther streets in the Schaefer plat at the city's far southeast side was approved. Mr. and Mrs. Joseph, Nick and Matt M. Schaefer, the owners, agreed to furnish a 10-foot strip for sidewalk if needed. The move will aid platting of the rest of the Schaefer's tract, part of which shows a neighborhood park, it was said.

Can't Use Vehicles
Discussion revealed the city will be unable to use a sedan and ambulance, purchased for it from army surplus by Vocational School Director Carl Bertram last year.

Bertram is reluctant to ask for last titles to the vehicles so that title can be transferred to the city to meet requirements of the city's fleet insurance carrier, it was said. His reluctance stems from the fact that cities are specifically prohibited from obtaining the surplus equipment, but vocational schools are not. He feels, it was said, he would jeopardize the school's position by raising an issue.

Payment of $1,415.45 to Brebner Machinery company, Inc., Green Bay, for repairs to city vehicles, was ordered. The sum was about $600 over an estimate, but justified, Duszynski said. The amount was questioned by the finance committee.

Aid, Gerald Wagner will talk to property owners about paying for four sections of sidewalk removed on W. Marquette street between N. Erb and N. Richmond streets to see whether sufficient concrete was used in construction. Three sections were found with more than enough thickness. They cracked and landowners sought replacement at city, or contractor's, expense.

Grading, graveling, curb and gutter for S. Locust street from W. Prospect to W. Front was scheduled for next year.

Town Constable Warns Building Permit Violators

Property-owners who build homes in the town of Grand Chute must apply for building permits from Assessor Robert Boettcher, Constable Russell Neubert said today.

Several cases of building permit violations have been noted, Neubert said. He warned builders the county zoning ordinance provides for fines of not less than $10 nor more than $200 for constructing a home without a permit.

18-Year-Old Given 2 Years Probation For Furnishing Beer

Norman Shepherd, 18, 1013 W. Franklin street, was put on probation to his employer for two years Tuesday on a charge of contributing to the delinquency of two boys, 14 and 17. Shepherd admitted he furnished beer to the boys.

He was arrested by Appleton police as the three boys walked down the Soo Line tracks with cans of beer in their pockets July 20.

Anthony Odessio, Neenah, Right, received a gold membership card and $50 silver dollars Tuesday night when the bricklayers' union honored him for 50 years of membership. Making the presentation were Thomas Polley, New London, left, president of the Appleton local, and Edgar George, center, Milwaukee, special deputy of the national bricklayers' organization. Bubolz Asks State To Consider 3 Factors in Plans

(Special to the Post-Crescent)

Rhinelanders — Three Appleton residents, including former State Sen. Gordon A. Bubolz, were among 13 persons heard by the boating committee of the legislative council during a hearing here Tuesday afternoon.

Bubolz, his daughter, Milly, 20, and Jon C. Stillman, 20, favored with the majority of witnesses statewide enforcement of boating regulations and statewide registration of boats. Miss Bubolz and Stillman appeared as representatives of the Enterprise Water Sports club, Elcho. Their families maintain summer homes on Enterprise lake.

The three spoke at the last of six public hearings held throughout the state by the committee, which is studying boating regulation in Wisconsin. It will begin drafting recommendations to the 1959 legislature next month.

Bubolz urged the committee to consider three factors: safety, through education and enforcement; uniformity of regulation and enforcement; and elimination of the hodgepodge ordinances adopted by municipalities.

He backed no age limit for water skiers and no horsepower limit on boats.

Miss Bubolz said the Enterprise club favors registration of boats, enforcement by the conservation department and a requirement that water skiers wear life preservers, but does not favor any age limit on water skiers.

Stillman added that an ordinance restricting water skiing on Enterprise lake was adopted by the town of Elcho last September, after summer home owners on the lake had gone home and could not speak on the matter. Statewide legislation would eliminate such discrimination, he declared.

Another witness, Assemblyman Marvin Dillman (R-Lac du Flambeau) claimed he was the victim of what he termed undue influence by outboard motor manufacturers who want boating regulations favoring use of their product.

Dillman, operator of a summer resort, told the committee he lost his dealer franchise for a brand of outboard motors after he fought a move to permit trolling for fishing in all Wisconsin waters.

A compromise regulation now permits fishermen to use troll lines from motor boats on five lakes.

Park Board Wants City Tree Program

Takes Action After Hearing Report on Survey by State

Council approval of an improvement program for city-owned trees will be sought by the park board.

Board members Tuesday decided to press for the program after reading a report of a tree survey conducted by Larry M. Fenton, of the state agricultural department's Dutch elm disease laboratory.

Fenton said a tour of the city showed six trees as suspect Dutch elm cases and 48 other trees either dead or dying.

Trees on most private property and many on city street right-of-way need pruning, Fenton said.

Recommendations

His inspection, he said, showed there are native elm bark beetles in all but two of the existing wood piles. Fenton recommended:

1. A 3 or 4-year pruning program be instituted.
2. Money for spraying against Dutch elm disease be budgeted as soon as possible.
3. No dead elm wood be permitted in the city.
4. The practice of the park department giving away wood be stopped immediately and the wood burned.

Fenton estimated the elm tree population in Appleton at 14,500 trees, with 7,500 on street right-of-way, 5,000 on private property, 1,000 in parks, 500 at Lawrence college, which has an excellent maintenance program and 500 in cemeteries.

The board sought money for a tree spraying program last year but was turned down by the budget committee.

Community Council, Fund to Talk Merger

Board members of the Community Fund and Council will hold a joint meeting Thursday afternoon to discuss possibilities of a merger. The meeting will be held at the farm of Miss Martha Sorensen, council president, near Poyissippi.

The fund and council now operate as partner agencies with separate boards of directors and officers. However, they share a common office and the same executive director.

Coated Paper Employees Get Wage Increase

New Contract Sets 5-Cent Boost For Hourly Workers

Hourly workers at Appleton Coated Paper company will get a 5-cent hourly increase under a new 1-year contract.

Contract terms between the firm and Paper Workers Local 16 of the Associated Unions of America were released by Richard Mahony, Coated president.

It is retroactive to June 30 and has no reopening provision, Mahony said.

Replacing the company's 2 per cent Christmas bonus, the contract grants an additional 3 to 4 cents an hour to employees, depending on the individual's new pay rate.

Other Provisions

Other provisions include reduction of the lunch period for day workers from one hour to a half hour, a new 14 cents per hour bonus plan for sorters, double time pay for time worked on six holidays, vacation pay based up on 48, 96, 144 or 192 hours for one, two, three and four weeks paid vacation and clarification of funeral leave, promotion, transfer, recognition, piece work, seniority and overtime clauses.

The 14-cent per hour sorters' bonus rate is in addition to present 3, 6 and 10-cent an hour bonus rates.

Jerome Hiler, president of the union, expressed satisfaction with the new contract. The union represents about 300 production and maintenance workers.

The union had set a strike deadline for 7 o'clock Tuesday night, but members approved the contract at 11 o'clock after the negotiation session ended at 9 o'clock.

Negotiations Tuesday lasted about seven hours. John H. Lacy, Milwaukee, federal mediator, participated in the discussions.

Stock Rally Falls Short

Moderate Turnover Paced by Oils; Market Holds Steady

New York — The stock market tried hard to resume a summer rally today but achieved only partial success with prices slightly higher in early afternoon.

Oils were favorites again with gains from fractions to more than a point. Turnover was moderate. There were two spurts when the ticker ran behind.

President Eisenhower told his news conference business is going to have to go slow on price increases or consumers are going to rebel. His remarks appeared to have little impact on the market.

There was no special news to account for the continued strength in oils. Some brokers said these stocks were considered good inflation hedges.

Rails, motors and aircraft were up slightly. Steels were irregular. Chemicals and aluminum showed small losses.

Amerasia, Getty Oil, Du Pont and Eastern Air Lines picked up a point or so. Up fractions were U. S. Steel, Chrysler, American Motors and International Harvester.

Allied Chemical and American Telephone and Telegraph dropped a point or more.

U. S. government bonds dropped to new lows for the year.

Tuesday Was Hottest Day Of Summer

Appleton had its hottest day of the summer Tuesday as the mercury climbed to 92. The previous high was 90 on Aug. 3 and July 26.

The overnight low was 68 and the temperature at 11:30 this morning was 70, with the wind from the south at 12 miles an hour.

A heavy wind and rain storm lashed parts of southern Wisconsin today.

Winds up to 50 miles an hour developed in the western part of the state during the night and moved rapidly eastward. La Crosse recorded .21 of an inch of rain. A severe electrical and wind storm, accompanied by hail, hit the Darling area this morning, uprooting many trees. Branches were broken off trees by high winds at Germantown.

Front Stalled

The weather bureau blamed the storm on a cool front which stalled over Wisconsin during the night after pushing into the upper portion of state Tuesday.

Daytime temperatures Tuesday ranged from a high of 94 at Green Bay to 83 in the Superior region. Milwaukee recorded 93, Madison 90, La Crosse, 90, Eau Claire 88, Beloit 87, Wausau 86 and Park Falls 84.

While the southern part of Wisconsin was buffeted by wind and rain today, the northern portion was clear.

Invokem, Calif., topped the nation Tuesday with a high of 108 degrees and Big Piney, Wyo., was the coolest spot early today with a low of 28.

The early forecast calls for mostly fair and a little cooler in the north through Thursday. Meanwhile the band of cloudiness over the south portion will move gradually southward, accompanied by a few light showers and possible thundershowers this evening. Clearing and cooler is forecast for the south tonight.

Thursday will be mostly fair and pleasant and a little cooler south. The outlook for Friday is partly cloudy, with scattered showers and warmer.

Insurance Firm Elects 3 Officials

Stanley Chmiel has been elected vice president and general counsel of Integrity Mutual Insurance company by the firm's board of directors.

May Hike Assessment On Part of N. Richmond

Extra Charge Could Stem From Belief
More Sidewalk Work Is Needed

Owners of property between W. College avenue and W. Wisconsin avenue on N. Richmond street may get an extra assessment in connection with reconstruction of the street.

The problem of extra charges will be taken to a committee of the whole (all aldermen) by the board of public works during tonight's council meeting.

The works board believes almost all of the sidewalk of sidewalk replacement work and cost. It amounted to $5.36 a foot for owners of business property and $1.92 a foot for owners of residential property along the W. Wisconsin to W. College section.

Some works board members Tuesday suggested the city and property owners split the added cost, equal to about $9,297.45, on a 50-50 basis. This, it was said, would equal an added charge of about 75 cents a foot.

These four factors indicate a need for the added replacement work, it was said:

1. The walks ordered replaced in the original state estimate are laid to the new street grade, making it difficult to meet the old sidewalk, laid to the former street grade.
2. Some of the sidewalk which otherwise would remain has a crown in the center, adding to the troubles of fitting new sidewalk with it.

3. Some of the old sidewalk is tilted the wrong way, another added handicap in making the new walk fit.

Patchwork Effect

4. Some of the old walk is in 12-inch blocks. There are sections of 10 feet where the old would remain, then a 20-foot section of new, then more old 12-inch square and so on, giving an undesirable patchwork effect.

Permitting the crowns and tilts to remain will cause water to collect in pockets and in winter ice will form, both undesirable sidewalk conditions.

The state estimate put cost of walk work on the west side at $3,094.43 and east side costs at $3,393.45. If the works board plan is adopted, west side costs jump to $7,470.90 and east side costs to $8,314.43.

Firemen Answer Six Minor Calls Tuesday, Today

Appleton firemen answered six calls Tuesday and this morning.

They administered oxygen to Mrs. Emma Dudy, 75, 1239 E. Pacific street, for about 15 minutes at 10:35 Tuesday night. Mrs. Dudy reportedly suffered a slight stroke.

They extinguished a burning awning at the A&P store, 338 W. College avenue, about 12:20 this morning. A carelessly tossed cigaret was the probable cause of fire.

They put out a minor fire in a cardboard box at the Robert Schroeder home, 211 E. McKinley street, about 9:50 this morning. A nearby cupboard and the floor were damaged and there was some smoke damage, Schroeder said.

They aired out the Templin Beer Depot building, 1115 N. Mason street, about 1 o'clock

Young Adults Club Will Hold Outing

The YMCA young adults club will hold a picnic at Club Orihyla, near Fremont, Thursday night, Miss Shirley Drath, secretary-treasurer, said today.

Members will meet at the YMCA at 5:30 in the afternoon, she stated.

Activities will include outdoor volleyball and miniature golf.

This morning after an electric motor burned out and filled the building with smoke.
